SICK AND TIRED OF THE COUNT.

His Chicago Wife Enters a Suit for Divorce.

Her Broken Leg Alleged Result of Cruelty.

The Kilgallen Romance That Failed to Pan Out.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another chapter of the Kilgallen-Le Beaufort romance was written today.

The attorney representing the former Miss Irma Kilgallen, daughter of M. H. Kilgallen, a prominent Chicagoan, filed divorce proceedings in the Superior Court against Count Jacques Alexander Le Beaufort, son of Maurice de Beaufort, thus shattering another international romance. Charges of extreme and repeated cruelty are named in the bill filed for the Countess.

Count de Beaufort left the Kilgallen residence in October, 1910, the same day that his wife was taken to St. Luke's hospital suffering from a broken leg and other injuries.

Count de Beaufort's departure from the Kilgallen home is said to have been hastened by a well-directed kick from his wife's father, and the none too gentle handling of the Kilgallen chauffeur.

The exact manner in which the Countess suffered her injuries has never been made public. It was openly charged at the time, however, that de Beaufort had quarreled with her and either by accident or design she fell down a flight of stairs, suffering injuries which kept her in the hospital many months.

The bill recites that the Countess was forced to leave her husband a little more than a year after their marriage because of his acts of cruelty. No mention is made of the episode at the Kilgallen home.

WHAT FREE SUGAR MEANS. Loss of Cuban and West Indian Markets to Canada Feared by Assistant State Secretary.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, April 8.—Huntington Wilson, Assistant Secretary of State, testifying before the Senate Finance Committee today, said free sugar meant the abrogation of the treaty between the United States and Cuba, which gives the United States an advantage of 20 per cent. preferential in Cuban sugar exports; that it would seriously affect the Cuban market to which the United States exports $40,000,000 of products annually; American flour being the principal item affected. He referred to pending negotiations in Canada through which Canada expects to expand its trade with the West Indies to the detriment of the large market there for American flour.

Edward Poulin was driving Mrs. George Veilleux and her six children to a party, when the flood swept over the wagon. Poulin sank immediately, his body not being recovered. Three of the children were dragged out, but Mrs. Veilleux and the other child floated down the stream, clinging to a stump. When help reached them two of the little ones were dead.

KNOX RESCHES JAMAICA.

American Secretary of State Will Pay a Visit to the Governor of the Island.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.) KINGSTON (Jamaica) April 8.—Secretary Knox arrived here today on the cruiser Washington. As the cruiser entered the port she exchanged salutes with the land batteries and then anchored close to the King-street wharf, where a guard of honor was drawn up. When the colors were hoisted the military band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the King."

Lieut.-Col. L. C. E. Wyndham, the Governor's private secretary, and aide de camp, accompanied by the United States Consul, escorted Mr. Knox ashore.

The Secretary's visit is not an official one, but he arranged to call on the Governor, Sir Sidney Oliver, while on the way to Port Antonio. The Governor is spending the week end at the country estate of Senator John Pringle, at Cape Clear.

Rival Claims.

ROOSEVELT LOSES GROUND BEFORE ILLINOIS PRIMARIES

CHICAGO, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eleventh-hour statements of campaign managers for the Presidential election, and the heated night claim victory for the hottest and most intricate primary campaign in the history of Illinois. Voters will declare their preferences from President down the list for almost every office to that of dog pelter.

Never has there been so much confusion and noise or so much money spent. There are about eight candidates for every office, and it is estimated that in excess of $2,000,000 has been spent in various ways. Quite as much more will have to be spent in keeping up the fires of enthusiasm between the primaries and the November election, as there will be an army of disappointed candidates who will have to be placated.

Had the primaries been held three weeks ago Roosevelt would have made a formidable showing, but his cause has been losing ground rapidly. La Follette will cut into his strength heavily in the northern part of the State.

VARIOUS CLAIMS. Frank L. Smith for the Taft cause claims a large majority of the delegates to be selected for the national convention, and Edwin W. Sims for Roosevelt, insists the colonel will carry the entire State, with the possible exception of the Fifty-eighth District.

Wilson and Clark champions also assert that victory will crown their banners.

"There is little I can add to the statements already made about the result of tomorrow's voting on the Presidential question," said Col. Smith tonight. "Just before the primaries I am more confident than ever that President Taft and the Taft administration will get a splendid endorsement from the Republican voters of Illinois and that a large majority of the delegates to be selected for the national convention in Chicago will be Taft delegates."

"In making this statement I am not speaking boastfully; I am making no wild claim. I speak from what I believe to be a good knowledge of conditions as they exist all over the State today. I feel absolutely certain that the victory is to be Mr. Taft's."

"The Roosevelt wave has receded, if indeed there ever was any rapid rise in Illinois for the colonel's nomination this year."

WILSON IN THE LEAD. On the Democratic side Woodrow Wilson appears to be the leader, although Champ Clark will display great strength. Clark is hampered by being endorsed by Hearst, which will cost him much support he otherwise would get in Illinois.

For Governor, on the Republican side, it is Gov. Deneen against a field of seven. Deneen's campaign has been against "Lorimerism" and his chief opponent is Len Small, the Lorimer candidate.

FEARS MALADY OF THE THROAT.

SON OF GEN. GRANT SAID TO BE AFFLICTED.

Gives Up the Command of the Eastern Division of the Army Owing to the Suspicion of His Illness. California Man May Succeed to the Post.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maj.-Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, U.S.A., commanding the eastern division of the army, with headquarters at Governor's Island, who leaves, will not return to Governor's Island to resume command of the division, which, next to the position of Chief of Staff in Washington and that of division commander in the Philippines, is considered the most important command that an army officer can hold. The big house, located on the eastern part of the island, which has been Gen. Grant's home since he succeeded Gen. Leonard Wood, in command at Governor's Island, two years ago, has been dismantled of Gen. Grant's effects, and they are packed and ready for removal.

That Gen. Grant has suffered an almost complete breakdown in health is admitted by many of his army friends, but that he is suffering from a throat cancer, the same disease that killed Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, his father, is denied by those close to him.

From high authority, however, it can be stated that Gen. Grant did feel at one time, and very recently, that he is suffering from a malady like that which killed his father, and it was with this knowledge that he was sent to Governor's Island.

When Gen. Grant left, Brig.-Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, the department commander at Ft. Totten, transferred his headquarters to Governor's Island, and took over temporarily the command of the division. He is still in command, but the understanding is that in a few weeks a major-general will be assigned there, and there is a well-founded rumor that the officer who will be sent to New York is Maj.-Gen. Arthur Murray, now in San Francisco as commander of the western division.

THE CLAYTON CASE. (BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) STOCKTON (Cal.) April 8.—Zelma Clayton, confessed murderer of five men, was arraigned today on the charge of killing William H. Newman. His preliminary trial was set for April 19. That Clayton was set free was indicated when he retained an attorney to defend him. When informed that he had the right to a lawyer, he called on the attorney, who was leading counsel for Newman, and was told that he would like to be excused from defending Clayton, and was given time in which to consider the matter.

QUICK ACTION ON SUFFRAGE

Bill to Let the Women Vote Passes Arizona House.

Senate Committee Promises Report It Soon.

Recall Amendment Goes Hunt Tomorrow.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 8.—Equal rights advocates were victorious in the lower house of the Arizona Legislature today, when, after a debate less than an hour, the House, by vote of 27 to 14, passed the suffrage resolution, and sent it to the Senate where also immediate action was had.

It had been the plan of the Senate leaders to hold public hearings on the measure in a committee-room, but the crowd of women in the Capitol building today, when a debate less than an hour, the House, by vote of 27 to 14, passed the suffrage resolution, and sent it to the Senate where also immediate action was had.

Accordingly many women leaders of the State were called upon, and presented their arguments to the Senate. The measure was then referred to a committee, with the promise that no time would be lost in reaching a final vote.

The recall amendment to the State Constitution was passed by the Senate today, after being corrected in several minor details, and sent to the House. It was thought the resolution would be handed to Gov. Hunt for his action by next Wednesday.

Among the bills introduced today was one providing for compulsory compensation for laborers, by Senator Worsley, and one prohibiting blacklisting, offered by Senator Wood.

In the House Mr. Moore of Tucson offered a bill providing for the destruction of all diseased dairy cows and Mr. Brook of Globe offered a bill to fix a design for an Arizona State flag.

Gov. Hunt signed the bill fixing the date of drawing jurors. It simplifies legal procedure in all jury cases.

The line was formed Christmas morning and there were forty-seven people in it at first. Several unofficial notices have been received that the lands will not be given by priority and all but eighteen had dropped out on April 1.

STONE ENTERS HIS PLEA.

Attorney for Ex-Superintendent of Napa Asylum Moves to Set Aside Embellishment Indictment.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NAPA (Cal.) April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. E. E. Stone of San Francisco, formerly superintendent of the Napa State Hospital, appeared in the Superior Court this afternoon to enter his plea of not guilty to the charge of embezzling $165. His attorney, former District Attorney, F. M. Silva of Napa, made a motion to set aside the indictment. He said the indictment was not properly returned, that there was not sufficient evidence to uphold it, that the grand jury had been improperly influenced by the act or expression of J. F. Neylan before the jury, and that the jury based its indictment on the fact that Stone had been indicted for embezzling $165. He said that the case will be argued Friday morning before Judge Gessford by Attorney Stanley Moore of San Francisco and F. M. Silva, representing Dr. Stone.

RETURN OF TROOPS FROM THE

Denial From Washington That the

Anything to Do With the Mex-

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The working out of plans long ago made public for the distribution in this country of returning Philippine troops undoubtedly has caused a revival of rumors that a large part of the United States Army is to be assembled on the Mexican boundary.
Somewhat impatiently, the general staff officers today quieted the rumors by pointing to the various statements issued from the War Department, the last as recently as April 3, showing the dates of sailing of the six regiments which are scheduled to end their tropical service in the Philippines in 1912.
Of these regiments, the Fourteenth Cavalry, entrained today at San Francisco en route to Ft. Clark and Ft.
McIntosh, Tex. The Third Infantry
also, is bound for New York ports.
The other regiments will embark at Manila on various dates until as late as June 15. It is not settled where they will be stationed, but it is expected that one and perhaps two will be located in the Southwest.
These facts were announced some time ago, and have no connection with recent developments in Mexico.
The rumors today of another concentration of troops on the border are said to have no basis in fact, the fact that some army officers are scouting in Texas for eligible camp sites for such returning Philippine troops is assigned to the Department of Texas.
The general staff is quietly keeping every branch of the military service ready for instant response to a call for a force upon the border.
It is pointed out that this is the principal function of the general staff and is by no means to be taken as an indication of an impending campaign against Mexico. On the other hand it is asserted positively that the President has not wavered in the slightest degree from his announced intention to keep hands off in Mexico as long as American life and property are not endangered.

Second Allotment of Verdugo Home-buyers' Club Now Being Offered to Public; $400 Secures Homesite and Stock Interest in Valuable Adjoining Property

A type of foothill and mountain environment that will soon be prohibitive except to people of wealth.

The second allotment of the Verdugo Home Buyers' Club, consisting of 400 beautiful acres, which will be known as Verdugo Heights, is now ready. For those who want a homesite in a location high, dry, fogless, frostless, balmy and picturesque—with ideal foothill and mountain environment—something in a class with the choicer portions of Hollywood and Altadena, here is an opportunity extraordinary. It really amounts to a chance to secure this class of property at actually two-thirds less than prevailing retail prices. The first allotment of the Verdugo project was over-subscribed, 80 per cent having been taken by local investors.

The Verdugo Home Buyers' Club is the tenth successful organization operating under the Western Empire's Land, Banking and Home Securing Plan. It is merely a club or syndicate of people who are uniting their moneys for the purpose of buying what is probably the prettiest and highest piece of desirable acreage suburban to Los Angeles, at wholesale price. Sufficient money will be subscribed to cover the cost of the highest type of improvements, including petrolelic boulevards, cement curbs and walks, water system, electricity, gas, sewers and extension of trolley system, at present within a short distance of the tract.

A membership in the Verdugo Home Buyers' Club will ultimately mean two profits from one investment. Members not only secure a handsomely improved homesite, 1200 feet above sea level, and just a thirty-five minute trolley ride to Broadway skyscrapers, in a community that will easily compare with Hollywood, Highland Park or Altadena, for as little as $400—but they also obtain a stock interest in half the lots of the entire

WAGE INCREASES IN COTTON MILLS

Twelve Millions Yearly Added to Pay Rolls.

But Still There Is Unrest Among the Toolers.

Strikes On or Contemplated in Many Places.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BOSTON, April 8.—Despite the wave of wage increases which in the last twelve months will add by more than $12,000,000 the pay of thousands of textile workers in New England, dissatisfaction is manifest still among operatives in a number of places.

Strikes are now in effect or threatened during the week unless certain demands are granted, at nearly a dozen textile plants. Except in Lowell, where 15,000 operatives are out of work, the number of operatives is comparatively small.

Many observers believe the strike and lockout in Lowell will end this week through the expected action of the manufacturers in granting an increase of 10 per cent. in place of the 5 and 8 per cent. already announced.

The settlement of the Lowell situation, apparently will not mean the end of activities in New England by the Industrial Workers of the World, the organization which has assumed responsibility both for the great Lawrence strike and that at Lowell.

The leaders are predicting strikes at the Manchester (N. H.) cotton mills and in the iron industry in Worcester.

In Fall River, where a general increase of 10 per cent. to the textile operatives recently discharged 3,000 persons, the 200 firemen have voted to go on strike today unless the 100 cotton mills involved grant a flat wage of 25 cents an hour in place of the present sliding scale of from 12 to 20 cents.

The month old strike at the Lancaster mills in Clinton, where 1500 persons are involved, now hinges only on the fine system. The mill owners have agreed to all the demands including an increase of 10 per cent. in wages, except that for the abolition of the fines. A vote of the operatives is being taken today on the question of returning to work.

A branch of the textile industry little affected by the agitation for higher wages—carpet making—is involved in a threatened strike today of 600 employees of the Roxbury Carpet Company. The workers there want to the owners today a demand for a general increase of 10 per cent. and for the reinstatement of three women employees recently discharged.

Prosperous conditions, except in the fine goods branch, have displaced the unfavorable factors in the textile industry in New England, which three years or more have compelled a drastic curtailment of the cloth and yarn output.

TO SAVE RICHMOND'S LIFE.

Attorney for the Minister Who Murdered a Girl Would Keep Him From the Electric Chair.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BOSTON (Mass.) April 8.—The first move to save the life of Clarence V. T. Richmond, confessed murderer of Miss Avis Linnell, sentenced to die in the electric chair during the week of May 19, was made today. The former minister's attorney, William M. Morse, had a short conference with Executive Secretary Hamlin at the state house, after which it was announced that on April 26, counsel for the condemned man will appear before Gov. Foss and argue the question of referring a petition to the executive council, which rests entirely with the governor.

LEGISLATORS REINTEGRATED.

New Mexican Senators, Accused of Bribery, Restored to Standing Despite Adverse Committee Report.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SANTA FE (N. M.) April 8.—After a turbulent session the House by a vote of 22 to 20 tonight restored to membership Representatives Lucero, Trujillo, Montoya and Cordova, who were suspended when they were arrested several weeks ago on charges of having solicited a bribe. The accused legislators will resume their seats until the House finally passes on the charges resting against them.

The action of the lower house of the Assembly in reintegrating the majority and minority reports earlier today by the Committee of Investigation, eight of whom voted to find the defendants guilty and seven not guilty.

The test vote which re-seated the suspended members will have an important bearing on the Senatorial situation, it is said, and may prevent the re-election of Senator Fall at this session, according to prevalent opinion.

FOR PRESIDENT OF CUBA.

Conservative National Party Nominates Menocal for the Place. Great Enthusiasm in Convention.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.] HAVANA, April 8.—The Conservative National Convention yesterday nominated Gen. Juan Mario Menocal for President, and Jose Enrique Varona for Vice-President.

The nominations were unanimous and the delegates displayed much enthusiasm. Gen. Menocal is Secretary of Justice and Senator Varona is chairman of the National Commission.

The liberal convention will meet April 15 and all indications point to the nomination of Alfredo Zayas for the Presidency. Senator Zayas is now Vice-President of the republic.

Gen. Menocal is a former President of the Veterans' Association.

CHILDREN ROLL EGGS.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Thousands of children crowded the main grounds of the White House today, the President's back yard, to join in the annual Easter Monday egg rolling.

The air was chilly, but otherwise the day was almost perfect, and children of all sorts and conditions with their mothers, big sisters and nurses flocked to play on the White House grounds.

TAFT RESIGNS TO MERE BABE.

Kissed Grandson of Senator Smoot, Who Sits in His Chair Awfully.

[A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.] WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Taft resigned his chair several minutes today to permit Senator Smoot of Utah to inaugurate his 7-month-old grandson, Reed Smoot Carton, behind the big desk over which passes each day the business of the nation.

"I think he will be President some day," said Senator Smoot, and several dozen waiting handshakers smiled in sympathetic understanding.

"He's a fine-looking boy," said the President as he picked him up and kissed him.

TO BEGIN LIFE ANEW.

Girl Who Says Los Angeles Is Her Home Will Soon Be Released From Chicago Hospital.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dorothy Lynmore, describing herself as a resident of Los Angeles, will start life anew tomorrow. She is in St. Luke's Hospital, where she was taken when found unconscious in the street. She was starving and exhausted by her failure to find work. She came here from New York after her father died. Her money gave out and she could find no work.

Telegrams were sent to a number of persons she named in Los Angeles and New York. Although the police hardly believe it likely, the nurses attending her say she expects some of them to come to see her.

Miss Lynmore is 27 years old. It was at Clark and Harrison streets that she was found. It was thought at first she had been drugged.

HEAR STEPHENS AS A BOOSTER.

ADDRESSES ARMY ENGINEERS ON HARBOR WORK.

Makes It Clear to Them That Kaleidoscopic Changes Have Taken Place in the Two Years Since the Stokely Report Was Made—Recommendation More Than Likely Now.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Stephens, after appearing before the Board of Engineers for rivers and harbors today, is very hopeful that action will be taken favorable to a reconsideration of the Stokely report. His manner might indicate that he would like to put the matter more strongly to still, but prudence seems to restrain him. Col. McKinley made his official report to the board. He said in it it is withheld for the present.

Stephens then addressed the engineers. He told them a great deal that Los Angeles well knows about the change which has taken place since the Stokely report was made some two years ago; how the harbor tonnage was 48 per cent. greater in January last than it was in October, 1910; how the population has quadrupled; how the bank clearing has increased from $250,000,000 to $1,200,000,000; how the postoffice receipts have increased some 500 per cent. He showed that Los Angeles is only a few miles off the coast of ships bound from Panama to the Orient and that most of them would have to stop at Los Angeles, that ships drawing upward of thirty feet are now entering Pacific Coast ports and that it was certain that a depth of thirty-five feet would be needed at Los Angeles to enable these great ships to tie up to its docks. He showed that Los Angeles is already developing the Huntington concession, that it has $1,000,000 on hand and due for further work and he pledged the city to "make good" on its plan for harbor improvement. He said that the city had the best of better facilities for the government itself.

There will be another meeting of the board tomorrow.

RHINE WINE ADVANCE.

The Vintage of Last Year Is Said to Be Superior to That of the Great Comes Year.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, April 8.—All along Broadway it became known today that the price of Rhine wine is booked for an advance which may continue until it costs more than champagne. The vintage of 1911 is pronounced the best within the memory of any living person. It is compared with the famous vintage of 1811, the "comet year," and many experts say it is even superior to that.

Prices already realized at the Berlin auctions make it likely that the Rhine wine of 1911 will bring $15 a bottle on the tables of New York restaurants. The first sale reported from Berlin was at $500 a butt, a butt consists of about 800 bottles, the price figures out at $6.25 a bottle, and there is little of the wine to be had at any price. To this price must be added the duty of about $1.50 a dozen bottles and the middleman's profits.

"LADIES, KEEP STILL."

"Hold Your Tongues and You'll Be Handsome" Is the Advice of a Harvard Expert.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BOSTON, April 8.—Dr. Charles H. Greene, lecturer in the Harvard Medical School, has made the discovery that women talk too much. In a lecture on the "Hygiene of Women," he declared:

"Yes, women talk far too much. They would be better looking if they listened more. They are nervous because they do so much talking. The energy they use up in talking should be used for other purposes."

"What the women of today need is a daily quiet hour. Few women realize how little rest they take and how much they need."

CLEAN YOUR LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS WITH "SYRUP OF FIGS."

More Effective Than Calomel, Castor Oil or Salts; Gently Cleanses the Stomach, Liver and Bowels Without Nausea or Griping. Children Dearly Love It.

You know when your liver is bad, when your bowels are sluggish. You feel a certain dullness and depression, perhaps the approach of a headache, your stomach gets sour and full of gas, tongue coated, breath foul, or you have indigestion. You say, "I am bilious or constipated and I must take something tonight."

Most people shrink from a physic—they think of castor oil, calomel, salts or cathartic pills. It's different with Syrup of Figs. Its effect is as that of fruit; of eating coarse food; of exercise. Take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight and you won't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged up waste matter, sour bile and constipation poisons move on and out of your system, without gripe, nausea or weakness. Nothing else cleanses and regulates your sour, disordered stomach, torpid liver and thirty feet of waste-clogged bowels like gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Don't think you are dragging yourself; being composed, entire, luscious, fragrant, senna and aromatics, it can not cause injury.

If your child is cross, sick and feverish, or its little stomach sour, tongue coated, give Syrup of Figs at once. It's really all that is needed to make children well and happy again. They dearly love its pleasant taste. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look on the label for the name—California Fig Syrup Company. That, and that only, is the genuine. Refuse any other fig syrup substitute with contempt.

ing observed, small gangs of men went down the pits to clear the roadway and prepare for a general resumption tomorrow.

The full contingent of men is working in North Wales and as the debris in most of the mines was cleared away last week, thousands of tons of coal were raised this morning.

In Flintshire, 6000 miners have resumed work and in the Derbyshire pits the men are preparing for coal getting tomorrow. In Piffesford, Scotland, the men have decided not to return until the funds in the treasury of the union, which amount to $180,000, have been exhausted, and as the authorities fear trouble between the strikers and the non-unionists, who have returned to work, a large force of police has been drafted.

In southern Wales the prospects are not bright as to the engineers, firemen and other surface men, who have pledged themselves not to return to work until their demands have been granted.

The first coal mined will be supplied to the railroads and mills, so that three weeks at least will pass before the householders are able to buy coal at the usual price. It is estimated that an even longer period will elapse before normal conditions in foreign trade will ensue.

THE ANTHRACITE SITUATION.

Hard Coal Industry Will Remain Tied Up, at Least Until After Tomorrow's Conference.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—District presidents and secretaries who, with J. P. White, national president of the United Mine Workers of America, comprise the committee which will have a further conference with the anthracite operators here Wednesday, in an endeavor to adopt a new wage agreement, will meet here tomorrow to put in shape their arguments.

The district officers at Scranton, Hazleton and Shamokin, are hopeful and expect an amicable settlement. They look for some concessions and are prepared to meet it half way.

The entire hard coal industry remains as completely tied up as it was last week. Many local unions met today to admit new members. None of the coal companies expects to make a move until after the conference. If concessions are made, expected meetings will be held to come to a final agreement.

KNIGHT IS FOR TAFT.

National Committeeman from California Announces that He Is Not in the Roosevelt Column.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George A. Knight, Republican National Committeeman from California, whose Presidential choice has been regarded as "doubtful," has defined his position in the following statement:

"There is no truth in the report that I am supporting Theodore Roosevelt for President as against William H. Taft. I have been a friend of Col. Roosevelt and stood committed to his administration when he was President, was a member of the national committee that had charge of his campaign, and was, for a period of two months in Chicago, on the Executive Committee of the National Committee, to further his election, and stumped the States of Illinois and Iowa, and addressed a meeting of 15,000 people in Madison Square Garden, New York."

"The first plank in our last national platform upon which President Taft was elected was a high encomium of Roosevelt's administration, was one of progress and good for whole people. He has had all the honor that comes to one from such a high place, and I feel that his position now before the people is to be regretted."

"If it were up to me to write the name of the Republican nominee for President, June 18, at Chicago, it would be William H. Taft. I could do so willingly and may be unkindly or ungrateful for the honest and able administration of Theodore Roosevelt."

MINERS BUSY AGAIN.

But It Will Be a Long Time Before British Industry Regains Its Equilibrium.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.] LONDON, April 8.—General activity prevails in the coal mining districts of Great Britain today. In Scotland and North Wales there was a large increase in the number of miners who descended the shaft, while in England and southern Welsh coalfields, where the Easter holiday is being observed, the work is being resumed.

At the time of the miners' visit there were five persons in the place, including the proprietor and his wife, J. Annesley and K. Hiram, employed as waiters, and A. Kanyama, a patron, who was chatting with Yokoyama.

The business of the establishment amounts to little after the close of the market, the thieves timed their operations to take place at 7:30 o'clock, when usually the proprietor and his wife are alone.

After opening the door the leader of the bandits ordered all to throw their hands in the air and while he kept guard with two revolvers his partner proceeded to gag the frightened Japs.

Towels and napkins were stuffed into their mouths after which the five victims were firmly bound to the chairs in front of the lunch counter. With their hands tied behind their backs and their feet fastened to a heavy iron railing, the Japs were unable to move and the robbers proceeded leisurely to search for valuables.

The contents of the cash register, together with money in the pockets of the victims were taken and the pair of thieves were about to leave when one of them discovered the two overcoats hanging on the wall in the rear. Bidding his partner to watch out for anyone who might enter, the younger of the pair appropriated the garments and carried them on his arm as he left the restaurant.

For more than two hours the prisoners inside were held captive by their bonds, but about 9:30 o'clock Yokoyama twisted himself loose and gave the alarm.

A watchman in front of Rivers Brothers' wholesale fruit store on the opposite side of the street heard the cry for help and ran to the Japs' assistance. After releasing the victims the watchman called up police headquarters and asked for help, but by that time there was little use of starting the search, owing to the fact obtained by the bandits.

Later in the night detectives obtained information that may lead to establishing the names of the robbers although it is believed the men have left the city, as they had the appearance of being tramps or I.W.W. members bound for San Diego.

GREAT RALLY OF TAFT M

New York State Convention Will Meet Today.

Friends of the President Complete Control.

Differences of Opinion on the Resolutions.

BY SUMNER CURTIS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] ROCHESTER (N. Y.) April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The New York State Convention to be held tomorrow and Wednesday will Taft convention. The only difference of opinion as to the Presidential nomination is as to whether in addition during the Taft administration shall be specific instructions to the delegates at-large sent to congress.

It is practically assured that the wishes of those in favor of specific instructions will prevail. The "Old Guard" wants no instructions in accordance with the tradition that New Yorkers to reserve their own votes when it has a favorite son to send to the nation. But the "Guard," the same "Old Guard" two years ago went to defeat the forces led by Theodore Roosevelt today conference practically the forces lined up in support of re-nomination of President Taft.

"New York, the Empire owes it to the rest of the country to have no shadow of doubt where it stands on the Presidential issue." Such seems to be the opinion of the men in control.

At the first day's session the convention will listen to a keynote by Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who will also act as temporary chairman. After the appointment of a committee on resolutions, the bars of which will be designed to the respective Congressional delegations, adjournment will take place until Wednesday. The Resolutions Committee will out all the issues presented, formulate a complete program, submit to the full convention.

A radical departure from time methods pertaining to Republican conventions in this State mark the procedure as well as a manner of designating the Presidential Committee.

In contrite spirit State Chairman Barnes, Jr., popularly known as the "Boss" by virtue of his titular position, plans that shall be open consideration of platform and all allied questions. Barnes undoubtedly realizes that in store and wants to fall as fully as possible. Instead of a closed subcommittee, he has selected a committee of the whole, with member elected to preside, after an agreement has been reached by the majority some one thing with the resolutions will be selected to present to the committee. The latter will be United States Senator Elihu Root, Mr. Barnes, depending on the personal character of the proposed form.

Senator Root looms up as a probable dominant personality in the convention. The man who was the keynote at the national convention which nominated Taft for president in 1904, and was second in command of the "Guard" in 1910 when the platform was overhauled, is now the ground as the recognized champion of the Taft cause.

He admitted that Senator Root's action when he can reach the delegates is declared he now is surrounded by a man who wants specific instructions to have the platform plan is to have the platform resolutions separate from the resolutions in advance in the resolutions adopted by the Chicago convention. It is in making some compromise that may not be to the pleasure of the President would be to stand in the platform, for the question of instructions delegates will be dissociated from the platform. There will be a fight in the convention over the platform. The "Old Guard" wants to denounce these ideas and want to eliminate them from the platform. The platform is a national issue. Many of the friends are sanguine that the tentative platform that has been prepared in advance in the resolutions committee is to be developed in the resolutions committee.

There will be a strong desire of the judicial recall, but ground from issues that now a national character.

DECISION BARS ROOSEVELT

Colonel's Bolsters in Michigan Out of Race by Supreme Court Decision Yesterday Ago.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] LANSING (Mich.) April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The hundred State convention through whom Roosevelt forces hope to counter the forces of the Supreme Court rendered eighteen year ago, virtually puts Col. Roosevelt out of the race in Michigan.

The case was a controversy of a dead-end convention bolt convention. The election of a signer refused to put his name was sustained by the Supreme Court, was taken to the State Supreme Court, with the result that last week the Roosevelt bolted without even waiting for a decision.

PASADENA, April 8.—A good show, was the verdict of those who attended the Shriners' vaudeville entertainment at Clune's Theater last night. They went farther and declared it to be a corking good show, a regular hum-dinger.

"I didn't know it was in you," was the congratulation the actors received of five, while friends of Adolphus Bush occupied a box reserved by the St. Louis millionaire, who was unable to attend owing to temporary illness.

ELABORATE AFFAIRS.
Two elaborate social functions yesterday opened the after Easter social season which promises to be unusually gay. The largest affair was the reception given by Mrs. Edwin Bartlett at her home in Oak Knoll, complimentary to her mother, Mrs. Frank G. Bartlett. There were 150 society matrons and maidens present.

Presiding in the dining-room over the flower-decked table were Mrs. Henry T. Fuller, A. Stevens Hasted, Walter Raymond and Frank Emery. Others assisting were Mrs. Howard E. Huntington, Phillip L. Auten, William Franklin Knight, George James Hopkins, Rowland B. Lane, Edward L. Martin, J. Dawson Thomson, Charles C. Bragdon, A. S. Gaylord, George A. Veldier, Misses Marger, Palmer, Frances Eversole, Katherine Wadsworth and Frances Lunkenheimer.

Mrs. Charles Henry Hill and Mrs. Warner J. Barton gave an elaborately appointed bridge party in their private suite at Hotel Green which was enjoyed by forty of their friends and several others were invited in for tea.

The rooms were ornamented with Bermuda lilies and white lilies and the tea table was exquisite with Killarney roses and white lilies. Hand-some prizes were awarded, these being won by Mrs. George D. Gregory, Daniel Craig, C. F. Ellis and Miss

MINISTERS IN FIGHT.
PROHIBITION FIGHT IS BITTER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, April 8.—In thirty-one elections today in the Sacramento Valley, the saloons were the issue in eleven. The contests in nearly every instance were marked by great bitterness.

Three towns were enrolled in the ranks of prohibition communities and eight retained saloons.

The towns that voted dry were: Wheatland, Yuba county, by 18; Biggs, Butte county, by 28; and Red Bluff, Tehama county, by 46.

The towns that gave a majority against the Anti-Saloon League were Dixon, Solano county, 60; Gridley, Butte county, 48; Colusa, Colusa county, 16; Lincoln, Placer county, 1; Kennet, Shasta county, 125; Redding, Shasta county, 363; Dunsmuir, Shasta county, 115; Elma Mills, Shasta county, 2.

The storm centers were at Red Bluff and Redding, where several arrests were made with threats of tar and feathers for some of the most active in the cause of prohibition.

Glenn McWilliams, Scotch evangelist, was arrested tonight at Redding licken. "dry" Trustees, were re-elected.

The women voters of Fowler cast more than half the votes today, keeping the town "dry" on a referendum issue by 239 to 50. "Dry" Trustees were also elected by a good vote. Other officers were elected without opposition.

The election in Dinuba, Tulare county, hinged today on the question of electing Trustees, who could be counted on to remove a Marshal who is charged with permitting "blind pigs" to run. One "dry" Trustee was elected, while a "wet" and a "dry" tied for the second place, and determination of the contest must be had by lot.

COVINA WOMAN DEFEATED.
SHE WANTED TO BE CLERK.

COVINA, April 8.—In entire disregard of chivalrous conventions the voters of Covina today elected a man City Clerk when there was a woman in town who had manifested an inclination to accept it. Andrew M. Pence was elected over Lottie M. Merwin by a vote of 295 to 191. Trustees elected were: F. H. Fabrick, C. S. Beardsley, W. P. Watts and Ira C. Fairly. Dr. J. D. Reed was elected City Treasurer.

TRUSTEES GET SALARY.
ALHAMBRA VOTE IS LIGHT.

ALHAMBRA, April 8.—Alhambra voters today authorized a salary for its lawmakers. Five dollars for each meeting will be allowed ordinary members, and $10 will be allowed the chairman of the board. Robert Kordan and J. B. Sexton were elected members for the four-year term, and town should be conducted along liberal lines or have the lid put on.

The election of Newman and Reher gives the liberals control of the city. L. P. Wetmore was elected City Clerk and Edwin Rhodes was elected Treasurer.

BIG SAN FERNANDO VOTE.
POOLROOMS VOTED AGAINST.

SAN FERNANDO, April 8.—Six hundred and forty-seven votes out of a total registration of 657 were cast in the city election held here today. The day was decidedly disagreeable, rain falling most of the afternoon, but the ardor of the political workers could not be dampened and all methods were used to get out a full vote.

One of the issues of the campaign was whether or not poolrooms would be licensed and voters declared against them by a majority of forty-five.

Trustees elected were: J. P. Macclay, A. Von Winkle, J. H. Jenifer, George E. Waite and J. O. Jenifer. H. C. Caldwell was elected City Clerk and A. C. Wisegarver Treasurer.

INDEPENDENTS WIN.
REDLANDS, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Independents made a clean sweep in the municipal election today and elected their candidates over the Socialists by large majorities, the vote running almost four to one in favor of the Independents. The results were very gratifying to Redlands people, as the Socialists had anticipated an easy victory. The results of Friday's school election, when the Independent candidate won an easy victory, was said at the time to be destined to encourage apathy on the part of the Independents, but the vote of today showed that almost the full Socialist vote was cast. The results of today's election were as follows: For City Trustee: F. A. Alexander (Independent), 1271; M. L. Black (Independent), 1296; George Iverson (Socialist), 457; H. E. Ringle (Socialist), 349.

For City Clerk: Rollo N. Smith (Socialist), 275; R. Warner Thomas (Independent), 1441.

For City Treasurer: Leona M. Balou (Socialist), 356; James F. Wheat (Independent), 1569.

WHITTIER RESULTS.
WHITTIER, April 8.—For Trustees: O. W. Maulsby and William Valkmar and Lewis Williams. For City Clerk: Clarence O. Trueblood. For City Treasurer: Dr. C. R. Dickson. Trustee: R. E. Comstock, 429; S. A. Jackson, 275; J. H. Linkletter, 548; O. U. Maulsby, 1046; D. Reid, 395; William Valkmar, 497; Lewis Williams, 719. City Clerk: Genevieve Graham, 463; C. H. Seaman, 522; Clarence Trueblood, 537. For City Treasurer: Dr. C. R. Dickson, 718; S. E. Glasgow, 356; J. O. Snavels, 338.

This is the result of election at which 1528 votes were cast, about evenly divided between men and women.

LAKEPORT DRY.
LAKEPORT, April 8.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Lakeport went "dry" today by a margin of two votes. Balloting was heavy. Fred E. Green, Dr. William Lane, W. C. Moore and F. H. Boggs, composing the "wet" ticket of Trustees, were elected. H. B. Churchill was elected Clerk, and John G. Crump City Treasurer.

ONE SET OF CANDIDATES.
BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

RIALTO, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rialto held its first election here today. The contest was featured by the general interest taken in the contest by the women of the community. Mrs. Sidney Taylor was the first woman to vote. There was no fight, the one set of candidates being elected as follows: J. C. Maffitt, J. C. Boyd, H. E. Van Frank, A. H. Morgan, Trustees; C. H. Bohannon, Clerk; Clifford Huston, Treasurer. W. G. Culross was made a candidate in opposition to Van Frank as Trustee, but the latter won by eight votes.

LIBERALS WIN AT CHINO.
ONE VOTE DECIDES FIGHT.

CHINO, April 8.—The most tempestuous campaign in the history of Chino ended today in the election of Carl V. Newman as Trustee by one vote over his opponent, and the election of J. Z. Reher by three votes. William S. Ross was the third man elected.

The issue was whether or not the

These Won Applause.

Seven Pasadena society people and a comic opera librettist who appeared last night in "Jack's Dilemma," a skit consisting largely of music, which was the hit of the Shriners' vaudeville show, given at Clune's Theater in Pasadena and attended by a fashionable audience of society people of that city. Standing, from left to right, Miss Irene Grosse, Mrs. R. D. Davis, Miss Louise Hawkins and Miss Alice Earley. Kneeling, from left to right, Will Harrell, Frank Pixley, Roy Kellogg and "Jack" Reher.

at the close. While on the stage they were rewarded with generous applause and almost submerged beneath a regular haystack of flowers. They delivered the goods, and the Shriners, who next summer will be entertained in the Crown City with the proceeds of the evening, and those of two other performances, that will take place today, will not enjoy the hospitality any more than did those who went to the theater last night to see the antics and capers that were cut upon the stage by said business men and prominent society women of the city for their amusement.

Those who made up the cast faithfully adhered to a resolve made early in the game that they would rehearse diligently and become as near professionals as it was possible for the occasion. Their lines were snappy and their movements graceful and free. Chief of Police Wood, who appeared with Thaddeus Lowe and State Senator C. W. Bell in a little Chinese laundry farce, remembered his lines. But he was prepared for the worst. His part was to make an arrest, and he said that should he find his knees weakening and the words vanishing from his memory he would "chuck" the whole thing and pull off a real arrest, rather than spoil the show. But it wasn't necessary.

Col. W. J. Hogan added interest to a cartoon of himself, drawn by Elmer M. Albright, by calling out "That's fine," from his box; and a few more little quips were tossed about the theater before the evening was over.

The house was crowded to the doors with prominent residents of the city. Automobiles blocked the street in front of the building. The actors acquitted themselves so nobly that no one could make a choice as to merit. Kobbe and Johnson were fine. "Jack's Dilemma," a little musical comedy, in which the roles were played by "Jack" Reher, Will Horrell, Roy Kellogg, Frank Pixley, Dey Ehrenfeldt, Pingree T. Osborne, Miss Irene Grosse, Miss Alice Earley, Mrs. R. D. Davis and Miss Louise Hawkins, was beyond description. W. O. Phillips was a "classical" dancer, indeed. He was a Salome in a spotlight. Fully as enjoyable was the music of the Caldron Club Quartette. Ernest Crawford, Whitlock Johnson, "Nate" Meers and "Arch" Rasey. Miss Vera Grauert and Jack Reher sang and danced to deafening applause.

There were several box parties. Col. W. J. Hogan had as his guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hogan, Mrs. A. D. Head, Maj. M. D. Stambaugh, Miss Florence Steward, Guy Hagerty, Mrs. Hattie Clow, Horace Major, Mrs. H. C. McGowan and Miss Helen Holbert.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vedder entertained with a box party Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Vedder, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. McD. Snowball.

Miss Beattie Mattison was hostess at a box party to Miss Edna McDonald, William Warren, Ernest Behr, and her father, Dr. F. C. Mattison.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Post entertained Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Norton, Miss Gladys Griswold and J. S. Post.

M. W. Landreth entertained a party

Mary Manning. Presiding over the tea table were Mrs. J. B. Stubbs and Miss Charlotte Thomas.

HAVE A HOT TIME.
A much battered party of defendants and witnesses appeared before Police Judge McDonald yesterday morning, as the result of a melee, which occurred late the night before.

Frank K. Corbin of No. 189 North Vernon avenue, a blacksmith, was arraigned on a charge of resisting an officer, and Mrs. Fannie L. Brown, a negress, appeared to answer to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Patrolman Collins had a broken finger and a broken club, and E. Lawrence of No. 1640 West Eleventh street, who came to the policeman's assistance, had a black eye.

The fight took place on the Salt Lake track, near Washington street, where the policeman, with Lawrence, attempted to arrest the defendant for shooting a revolver within the city limits. The white man and colored woman showed willingness to go to jail without resistance, until suddenly the woman stooped and took from one of her stockings a large army revolver, and Corbin, grasping it, made an attack upon his captors, using it as a club.

The woman, yesterday, was fined $15 for carrying concealed arms and Corbin was released on $300 bail. There will be a further hearing in his case.

on the complaint of City Attorney Braynard as he was about to address a meeting at Armory Hall. The warrant declared that the accused had disturbed the peace of Redding by using vile, profane and indecent language, and by disorderly, tumultuous and offensive conduct.

There was a decided movement to the left and feather him, but the better citizens would not permit this. So bitter was the feeling engendered in the campaign at Red Bluff that special police were stationed in the precincts. Several arrests were made for illegal voting. If all the arrests are made that are threatened the courts will be blocked temporarily.

The anti-saloon forces had a minor victory in the election, a delegation of men and women at each precinct. Their opponents contented themselves with the presence of a lawyer and a representative. The vote was about 1600.

Excitement ran high in Colusa, which the anti-prohibitionists carried by sixteen votes. Many votes were challenged by both sides and there is talk of a contest tonight. The try and Corbin, grasping it, made an attack upon his captors, using it as a club.

W. H. Boggs was arrested on complaint of Dobbins for attempting to vote illegally.

Automobiles were out all day, and it was the hardest fought election Colusa ever had.

At Willow, the contest was the warmest in the history of the city. The women's vote was exceptionally heavy. A business men's ticket, endorsed by the saloons won. High license carried.

By the narrow margin of one vote the anti-saloon league lost the fight for no license at Lincoln. Lincoln saw one of the most exciting days in her history as a city. Both sides claimed the election by a small majority but neither expected the fight to be so close. From the opening to the closing of the polls the contest was waged with bitterness by both sides.

At Orland, although there was no local option fight, the temperance issue entered into the election and T. J. Hicks, George Reager and Chris Schmidt, supposed to be friendly to prohibition, were elected Trustees.

At Dixon the anti-prohibitionists have a majority on the Board of Trustees as the result of today's election. The local option fight was the exciting feature of the day.

At Yuba City the feature of the election was the fact that three women sat on the election board. The women are quite proud that they were able to finish the count in less time than the local option consumed by election boards in the past.

At Tehama, Mrs. Hessa, Jennie Worthington and Mrs. G. C. Simpson served on the election board with equal number of men.

HOME SAVINGS BANK.

The stock of the institution advanced materially during the year. The old board of directors was unanimously re-elected as follows: W. M. Bowen, J. H. Bullard, W. F. Callender, L. J. Christopher, F. M. Douglas, J. E. Finburn, H. J. Coudge, George Hanna, Henry T. Hazard, D. F. Hill, R. B. Lane, George R. Murdock, W. E. Oliver, A. L. Smith, T. A. Thomsen, H. J. Whitely and O. J. Wigdal.

The officers elected are: President, O. J. Wigdal; vice-president, W. F. Callender; and H. J. Whitely; cashier, F. L. Thompson; assistant cashier, George B. Reid.

DOMESTIC UTILITIES.

In support of his allegation of fraudulent acts perpetrated by C. P. Moore, an agent of the Domestic Utilities Company, Attorney Keifer, representing W. H. Taylor and wife, who have brought an action against Moore and R. W. Barrett to cancel a mortgage, outlined in his argument before Judge Bordwell yesterday the manipulation of a $5000 contract deal with the Taylors. The matter was up on demurrers to the complaint, and submitted.

Moore, according to Keifer, turned the $5000 contract from Mrs. Ethel L. Parker, an elderly widow, to Mrs. Taylor and got the latter to deed her house and lot to Mrs. Parker, from whom Moore held mortgages on her property for a deed he turned with her. Moore gave Mrs. Parker credit on her mortgages and took a deed from her to himself. He then mortgaged the Taylor property to Barrett, all of these alleged transactions taking place within a period of sixty days.

Keifer alleged that Moore had promised in writing, which is now in the hands of the District Attorney, that he would not dispose of the Taylor property, but would give all the time desired to redeem their property. This agreement, however, Moore violated. It is alleged by Keifer, by borrowing $1500 from Barrett on the Taylor property and then selling the property to Mrs. A. Elliott subject to the mortgage, Mrs. Elliott is also a widow, advanced in years.

What Food

shall I give Baby?

Every mother must sooner or later ask herself this question, and it is one which must involve a good deal of anxious consideration. It may be that on the advice of friends various foods are tried to see if baby takes kindly to them.

Now, is it not reasonable to assume that an infant's food that has been in general use for upwards of fifty years, and that has been used in preference to others, in most of the Royal Nurseries of Europe, is likely to prove a suitable diet for the average infant? Such a food is Savory & Moore's, and all mothers who decide in its favour may be congratulated on the wisdom of their choice.

Infants reared on Savory & Moore's Food are characterized by strong, sturdy limbs, firm flesh, plenty of bone and muscle, easy teaching, freedom from infant ailments, and that happy disposition which is the surest sign of perfect health. Ask your Druggist to get you a tin.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Councilman Topham will move to sell the present City Hall today without waiting for the people to vote on the question.

City Attorney Shank received word yesterday from Washington that the city has won the telephone case. This means that four years hence the Sun- set Telephone Company will have to buy a franchise from the city of Los Angeles.

City Engineer Hamilton has asked the City Council in effect who is to pay the damages that would result from the change of grade at California street if the Broadway tunnel were lowered.

In Judge Monroe's court yesterday a young man who gets $150 a month and had been ordered to pay $40 a month alimony sought a reduction and stated that $110 a month isn't enough for him to live on. The judge thinks differently.

At the City Hall.

PLANS TO SELL CITY HALL NOW.

COUNCIL WILL BE ASKED TO PUT IT UP TODAY.

People to Vote Direct on Question Whether to Rear New Municipal Building on Temple Block Site and Not for Simple Straw Ballot—Five-Cent Tax Levy Plan.

Reporting in favor of a 5-cent annual tax for the purpose of building the new City Hall on the Temple Block site or on adjacent property, Councilmen Topham and Lusk, composing a majority of the Building and Land Committee of the Council, will ask that body this morning to submit the question to the people at the special election on May 31. Caught napping for a moment by a misplaced decimal point, on Friday, when it decided on a 1-cent tax levy, the committee met yesterday and changed the figure to 5 cents, which it is expected, will produce $165,000 a year.

It will not be a straw vote, either, Chairman Topham of the committee admitted yesterday afternoon. The report has not yet been prepared, but will be the first thing this morning and Topham said he had abandoned his idea of a straw vote and had agreed with ex-Judge Lusk that the people should vote yes or no on a straight-out question, he said last night. He insists that now is a good time to sell the present property and it ought to be sold.

CITY WINS APPEAL.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISES.

That Los Angeles had won its fight to compel telephone companies to take out municipal franchises was the news received by City Attorney Shank yesterday from the clerk of the Supreme Court at Washington. The case decided was submitted on March 14, after argument in which Shank participated. In 1905 the telephone franchise held by the Sunset company in Pomona had expired and the company refused to seek for a new one on the ground that it had been held by the State Supreme Court in the Davis case—under the Penal Code provision that a telephone company was a telegraph company, and hence, under the statute of 1872, no municipal franchise would have to be asked. Pomona sued to compel the company to take out a franchise. Judge Welborn in the United States District Court sustained the Pomona contention, but the United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Welborn.

As in four years the same case will be presented to the city and in Pasadena, Los Angeles and Pasadena took an appeal to the Supreme Court from the Circuit Court of Appeals and yesterday Shank received a dispatch informing him that the Supreme Court had reversed the Circuit Court of Appeals and remanded the case with directions that the matter be dismissed "without prejudice." Incidentally, Shank points out the Supreme Court sustains the contention that telephone companies must still take out municipal franchises under the constitutional amendment adopted at the last general election, as that point was raised in the companies' arguments before the court.

WHO IS TO PAY?

BROADWAY TUNNEL SNAG.

The project of lowering the grade of the Broadway tunnel has struck a snag in the fact that the City Council in approving the plan to reduce the grade so that the tunnel mouth at California street would be twenty-two feet lower than at present, did not specify who was to pay the damages. City Engineer Hamilton, to whom the Council referred the project with directions to prepare estimates and an ordinance for the work, yesterday called the Council's attention to the omission in a letter. He asks whether it is to be done under the Yreaman act or under the Hamilton act, and explains that the former should be used if the city is to be responsible for the damages and the Hamilton act if the property owners are to pay them.

He says the damages will be considerable as California street, if lowered at Broadway to twenty-two feet below the present altitude, will have a grade of 15 per cent to Hill to Broadway, and several large buildings will have to be remodeled. If the property owners are to meet the damages, an assessment district will have to be formed, and the project may meet with a protest.

HOSE AGENT ANGRY.

FIRE CHIEF IS VICTOR.

When Agent Towne for the Victor fire hose learned at the meeting of the Fire Commission yesterday morning that Chief Eley had reported against his hose because of its weight and percentage of corrugation, he was angry and said: "The report shows that the person who made it lacks intelligence on the points of fire hose."

"There's the report and there's the hose," Eley replied, and the Fire Commission sustained his findings after looking at the tested sample. There were some sharp exchanges of words, but the commission adopted the recommendation of the chief in favor of Bay State hose.

EAGLE ROCK FARE.

CITY ATTORNEY'S PLAN.

The Eagle Rock five-cent fare question is to be solved, City Attorney Shank says in a report to be read before the City Council this morning. By demanding that the Los Angeles Railway Company shall ask for a franchise across streets north of Dayton avenue where it has none now, and then make the five-cent fare an essential feature of the new franchise, Shank also recommends that, instead of preparing plans for Alameda street improvement as if the Southern Pacific Company had a franchise after the spur tracks there now, the Council insist on the company's applying for a franchise for the spur. If not applied for, he says, the city can order their removal.

Manchester Avenue Cars.

Manchester avenue is to have a sixteen-minute car service to the north as soon as the Los Angeles Railway Company can complete its intersection at Florence street and Vermont avenue. President Faulkner of the Board of Public Utilities notified the City Council yesterday. He also transmitted the board's approval of the company's request for a permit to construct the intersection at those streets at once.

To Transfer Inspector?

Oil Inspector Blackman's effort to have the testing of asphalt placed under his department may result in himself being placed under the Board of Public Works and the City Council yesterday that under the charter the testing of asphalt naturally belonged to the Board of Public Works and was made a part of the City Engineer's work. It could not legally be given to the Oil Inspector, therefore, he said. The latter, however, he suggested, was an office created by ordinance, might by another ordinance, be placed under the control of the Board of Public Works, and he intimated that it belonged there.

City Hall Revivified.

The N.Y.W. Association asks the City Council in a resolution to make the Temple street cars run down Temple to Spring street. The cars, under an order of the Board of Public Utilities, now run to Broadway and First.

The General Public Improvement Commission asked the City Council yesterday for a permit to erect a pumping station and tanks on San Fernando road, Hill place.

The Cypress Park Association has appealed for city rates for gas and electricity in that district.

The Finance Commission yesterday asked the Finance Committee of the Council for a general increase of pay for the commission's men.

At the Courthouse.

LIVING IS HIGH FOR THIS MAN.

SAYS HUNDRED TEN DOLLARS A MONTH NOT ENOUGH.

Tells the Court Forty Dollars Is Too Much to Pay for Support of His Two Children and Seeks Reduction, but Judge Monroe Sees the Matter in a Different Light.

W. J. Thomas, a well-groomed young man, employed in a local electrical company at $135 a month, made the surprising statement in Judge Monroe's court yesterday that $110 a month is not enough for him to live on. He had been ordered by the court to pay $40 a month alimony for the support of his two children and sought to have it reduced to $20 a month.

The climax came when Annie M. Hamilton, a private detective, testified that she had been employed by Thomas as to report the actions of his wife.

"The detective did not seem to find very much," remarked Judge Monroe. "I see no reason, if there is nothing immoral, why a husband or a wife, who has been divorced, cannot have company or get married."

"He is a young man who gets $135 a month. He has been married from his wife for two years. He says $110 a month is not enough for him to live on. Now he does he expect his wife to support the children on $40 a month? A woman can't go out and work with a child tagging to her skirts. Certainly a man can spend money to hire a detective he can employ to support his children. I will deny the motion for a reduction of the alimony. There is no good ground for taking the children from the mother and I won't change the custody."

The decree was granted Mrs. Thomas by default by Judge Church last August.

HOLDS UP ORDINANCE.

CAN'T COLLECT LICENSE.

Pending an appeal to the Supreme Court, an order was issued by Judge Conroy yesterday restraining the city from enforcing the license-tax ordinance against the Security Savings Bank, the German-American Savings Bank, the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, the Southern Trust Company and P. S. Hughes.

The motion for a restraining order was heard yesterday, the banks taking the stand that the ordinance is void as it conflicts with Amendment One, which provides that the tax paid by these institutions shall be in lieu of all State, county and city taxes, and licenses. The argument for the banks was made by Attorney Haas, Shankland and Chandler.

The city was represented by Deputy City Attorney Westover, who argued that this is a vacation tax and not a property tax. The answer to this was that the use of the word license is intended to cover vacation as well as property tax.

Bonds in the following amounts were ordered to cover the license tax in abeyance: Security, $20,000; German-American, $15,000; Los Angeles Trust, $10,000; Southern Trust, $5,000; Hughes, $10,000.

LAWYER WINS COMMISSION.

WHEAT KING'S WIFE TO PAY.

A JURY in Judge Finlayson's court yesterday found judgment for C. Randall Sparks, attorney, who had brought suit against Mrs. Annie Murphy for 5 per cent commission on $119,000, representing a property settlement.

Mrs. Murphy, who is the wife of a former wheat king, testified that she had retained Sparks to represent a petition for the mental incompetency of her husband and for no other purpose. A contract duly executed was shown in evidence bearing Mrs. Murphy's signature which she declared she did not know that she had signed until notified.

Hunsaker and Goodwin represented Mrs. Murphy, Attorney Marshall was counsel for Sparks.

RECOVERS JUDGMENT.

GAS COMPANY LOSES SUIT.

Charles D. Willard was awarded judgment for $12,000, the full amount of his claim against the Valley Gas and Fuel Company, by Judge Hutton yesterday. The Los Angeles Company was a party to the suit, which grew out of the destruction of Willard's home on North San Rafael street, December 16, 1910, by the alleged negligence of the company in repairing a defective pipe.

Willard claimed that the company had been negligent in its work, and the contents, which included many relics, at $500. He recovered $5000 interest.

HINT TO TRY AGAIN.

COURT MAKES SUGGESTION.

Mrs. Janet S. Kroeck was denied a divorce by Judge Monroe yesterday, and on that she was told to try again. She was the deposition of Dr. Frances Blumauer, who stated that Mrs. Kroeck seemed to be engaged in literary labors in which she was very much interested and that she did not believe she could do equally well this time.

The husband, Wesley Kroeck, had complained that Mrs. Kroeck would make a better wife if she stayed home and attended to her child instead of lecturing on beauty hints in child-raising. Judge Monroe stated that was a hard-working man and appeared to have done his part, and he could see no reason in the world why the couple could not become reconciled and live happily.

AFTER BEAUTY DOCTOR.

DAMAGES FOR RUINED NOSE.

Chauncey Gardner, assistant prosecuting attorney for the State Medical Board, watched the suit of Peter M. Brooks against Channing H. Cook, W. H. Loomham, H. Earle, H. E. Coker and May Turner Oger before Judge Hutton yesterday with the view of prosecuting Oger for practicing medicine and surgery without a license.

Cook is alleged to be the head of the "beauty" business in Los Angeles and Brooks brought suit for $5000 damages for ruining his nose. He testified he went to the parlor to have a depression filled out. He paid $80 for the treatment, which was to be five days, but continued five weeks, at the end of which time he said the job was given.

Cook denies he is the responsible man, and says that Cook is, but that the latter has left the city.

SENT TO POLSON.

SAN FERNANDO MAN'S CASE.

A sentence of ten years in Polson and a certification which few men have received were handed out to Harry Atkinson, a hitherto respected citizen of San Fernando, by Judge Willis yesterday. Atkinson pleaded guilty to having wronged 14-year-old Nina Menear, the daughter of a man. In order to hide the crime he had committed, Atkinson took the child to Dr. C. V. Watson, now under indictment for another case, and despite Atkinson's threats to kill her and himself she told the story.

Probation Officer Dodds, who had investigated the case, wrote a vigorous report. His investigation showed that Atkinson had taken advantage of Nina while she was administering to his sick wife.

WILL NAME REFEREE.

GRIFFITH PARK ENTRANCE.

Presiding Judge Hutton instructed Deputy City Attorney Haas and the attorneys representing property owners whose land the city is seeking to condemn for an entrance to Griffith Park, to name three referees and he would appoint them. If they cannot agree the court will select the referees.

Haas appeared in court yesterday with a motion for the appointment of the referees. He stated that the strip proposed to condemn is more than half a mile long and from 200 to 300 feet wide. The large owners of property involved include Mrs. Victor Ponet, the Catholic Church, represented by Bishop Conaty, Griffith J. Griffith and R. F. Wyckoff. The damages will approximate $200,000.

LAWYER DISABLED.

PLAYS WITH BUCKET SHOP.

A. A. Sturges was disabled from practicing as an attorney by Judge Bordwell yesterday. Suit was brought by the Los Angeles Bar Association on the complaint of Mrs. Elizabeth Pauly that she had given Sturges at various times sums aggregating $5000 on his representation that he would invest it for her and that it would bring in greater returns than the interest the banks paid her.

The testimony showed that Sturges had speculated with the money in the bucket shop by one Louis H. D. Brown, now serving time in the penitentiary. The result was disastrous to Mrs. Pauly, who it was stated, in the complaint, was now a destitute, and the case was conducted for the Bar Association by Attorneys North and Fleming.

UNIQUE POINT.

ARGUED IN STOCK CASE.

A unique point was argued before Judge Bordwell yesterday in the suit of Mrs. Emma F. Poplin to compel the Los Angeles Investment Company to issue at par, stock now selling at a greatly increased price. The matter came up on a motion for a writ of mandate and was submitted.

Mrs. Poplin owns 300 shares of the company, which she had purchased at the price she originally paid. It was argued to show that the company should sell its stock at less than the present market price.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

GOES TO FOLSON. Joseph Zerbe was sentenced to eight years in Folson by Judge Willis yesterday. Zerbe was convicted by a jury for having attempted to fire his barber shop at No. 2311 E. Ninth street on the night of January 29 last.

INCORPORATIONS.

California Glazed Cement Pipe Company, Incorporated, Arthur S. Bent, Walter K. Tuller, Joseph C. Finch; capital stock, $100,000; subscribed, $300. Insurance Agency Company, Incorporated, A. N. Campbell, E. L. Wood, A. T. Archer; capital stock, $25,000; subscribed, $300.

VERDICT FOR COMPANY. Judgment for the Los Angeles Railway Company was given by a jury in Extra Session yesterday in the suit of Cherrill Sikes, who asked $1400 damages for injuries received on February 18, 1910. She claimed that she fell off the car, due to the negligence of the motorman. The company denied liability and showed that Cherrill did not use proper precaution.

IN THE INTERIOR COURTS.

Carver Case Again Continued. Women Crowd Courtroom to Obtain Look at Slayer.

Miss Viola Carver, slayer of J. Ed- with Edge, young realty operator and son of Mrs. Mary Edge, No. 219 South Hope street, appeared before Police Judge Chambers yesterday morning sufficiently long to give her consent to a continuance in her case until the 11th inst. The motion, made by Attorney Collier, was not opposed by Assistant District Attorney Shannon.

Neither J. E. Carver, the girl's father, nor her mother were present, but Mrs. Edge was. On either side sat a young man, one her remaining son.

The courtroom was well filled with women and men, who had been attracted by the hope of seeing the slayer. There were also a number of spiritualists, who were alleged to have seen the girl's spirit.

The morbidly curious got but momentary glimpses of Miss Carver, the remaining behind a partition until it was necessary for her to approach the bar. Without raising her eyes, Miss Carver turned and walked back to her seat. She was exposed to public gaze but a few seconds. Mrs. Edge watched the girl closely from behind her deep veil of mourning.

Jealousy Leads to Cutting. Viola Penzell's head was so closely wrapped in bandages it was impossible for her to walk unassisted into the present case. Judge Ross in Judge Frederickson's department of the Police Court, to appear against Sarah Langley, also colored, who had cut her hair with a knife on First and Alameda streets. The bandages over the mouth were arranged so as to permit the woman to make utterances, but she was unable to speak. The accident happened at Ninth and New Hampshire streets.

Home Builders.

YOU are sure of regular cash dividends every three months. Last year the net interest earnings from "HOME BUILDERS" mortgages, trust deeds, contracts, and bonds, was $1,234,848 more than the amount paid out in cash dividends.

The net profits, this surplus interest and the premium on the stock sold, increased the surplus fund more than $150,000. "HOME BUILDERS" has total assets of $1,297,236. Of this much more than One Million Dollars is on a good interest-earning basis, which is proven by the fact that it earned more than $2,000,000 interest last year. Every dollar of its invested funds has made a generous profit in the development of the investment.

"HOME BUILDERS" does not anticipate its profits through real estate investment. It does not invest large sums in non-productive real estate. It keeps on the mortgage side of the transaction and thus is safe.

Oil News of Interest From Fields of State.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

BAKERSFIELD, April 7.—To facilitate the campaign for the protection of the Westside oil fields from infiltrating waters, A. T. Parsons, civil engineer, has prepared, from data collected by the Oil Men's Protective association, a map, showing the territory threatened by water. The district affected or likely to be affected, according to the map, includes portions of the Lost Hills, Belridge, Mc-Kittrick, Midway and Sunset fields.
The water zone in the two latter fields is continuous from the farther-most point of development south of the Sunset to the barren strip of country between Fellows and McKittrick, a distance of twenty-two miles north and south. In width the affected portion of the Sunset-Midway district varies from four to eight miles. In all it includes about 110 sections, or about 76,800 acres.
The McKittrick field gets off with only one section of threatened lands. Belridge is charged with forty-seven sections and Lost Hills with sixty-six. The grand total is 187 sections, or 137,488 acres of proven oil land, with anywhere from $100,- 000 up to a figure that might look enormous in type.

Only a fraction of this territory, of course, is really affected by water, and all of it is liable to injury, in the absence of the oil men, if active preservative measures are not taken at once, and the assessments to raise the funds for the anti-water campaign have been levied against the whole of the territory.

While the organization of the campaign has only begun, the good work of the movement are beginning to show in a greater appreciation on the part of individual operators of the need for more care in handling of water. Operators are according the idea that the manner in which their own land is protected is a matter of public interest, and the cooperation and inspection of the state commissioner is being more fully sought.

In most aroused sentiment, the Commissioner Foster has adopted a system of certificates which will be issued when the water in oil wells has been shut off and satisfactorily tested in his presence or the presence of his deputies. These certificates, which amount to clean bills of health for the wells they refer to, are made in duplicate, the original being retained by the owner of the well and the duplicate being placed on file with the Protective Association in the water commissioner's office. By this system it is proposed to establish a public record of oil wells in the field, thus doing away with the present prevalent practice among operators of blaming each other's wells for any water that may show in their vicinity.

OIL WELL ON FIRE.

CITIZENS ALARMED.

Winters has a literal fire pit in the form of a burning oil well, and is determined whether to utilize it as a sanitary garbage incinerator or to keep it as an ever-present reminder to citizens of the west side town of what is coming to them if they depart from the straight and narrow way.

The well in question is one of the many producers of heavy oil abandoned long ago. The derrick was removed and the casing pulled, but the oil was slowly to the surface and began flowing down a gulch. Some boys were attracted, and the oil has now run down about twenty-five feet from the top, making a narrow crater, the bottom of which oil bubbles and burns redly, and from which the oil flows down the sides of the crater and runs down the gulch. Standing on the edge of the crater, and remembering the vivid descriptions in novels of the fire that is not quenched, citizens of Marietta declare they are able to recall the last thing they ever did in their lives.

New Utah Oil Field.

It has been found that there is a new oil field in the heart of the coming summer. It is located directly west of Green and is known as the San Rafael. Over 100,000 acres of land already has been located and about 10,000 acres have been expended in surveying. The new field is located on the south side of the Green River, and it will be in action about June 1.

New Roads and Personnel.

County Engineer, president of the oil company in the Midway district, was on the property for two or three days last week on a tour of inspection.

Green McCutcheon, one of the prominent stockholders of the Mc-Cutcheon Brothers' Oil Company, located near Maricopa, has gone to San Francisco to have his leg treated.
He has his left foot in a railroad car for several months ago. The lease on the Green City Oil Company, operated by all of the Sunset Monarch oil company for use in its refinery, located on section 21, 33-23, is being sold by the oil company. The lease is being sold for $10,000.

John Kinney, superintendent of the oil company in the Midway district, is coming to the No. 1 well and attempting to bring it in within the next few days.

John Kinney, Jr., of Russia, reached the oil field the other day and will spend some of the day in the oil fields.
He is interested in some of the properties.
The oil company has gone to the headquarters of the Kinney Brothers at San Francisco. He was accompanied by several other officials of the oil company.

A. L. Linder of Chicago is visiting the oil field. He is interested in some of the properties. The oil company is interested in some of the properties in the oil field.

THE SHREDDED WHEAT COMPANY, NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.

Interested in the Coalinga oil fields, I went to that camp the other day and will be there several days on business.

The G. R. Oil Company, which some months ago stopped work on its wild-cat well in the hills just west of the mouth of Tejon Canyon because of inability to cement off the water, is having its property examined by an expert with a view to resuming work.

Much interest attaches to the efforts of the G. R. as its well is many miles east of any proven territory and the success of its search for oil would open up an entirely new field.

TELLS PITIFUL STORY.

Mexican Mother Says Husband Shot Son and Turned Hungry Family Out of the House.

Turned out of their little home on a cold night and compelled to crawl with numbed feet to a farmer's house a mile away, Mrs. Tubercio Gonzalez yesterday told Deputy District Attorney Veltch a pitiful story of desertion and ill treatment at the hands of her husband. She declared that her son, Juan, stood between her and the enraged husband, receiving a rifle bullet in his thigh for his pains. Both mother and son pleaded with the deputy not to have their husband and father tried for a murderous assault.

The Gonzales family lives at Lankershim. In the family are six children, the wounded boy, four girls and a baby. One cold night the husband came home in a quarrelsome condition, said Mrs. Gonzalez and her son. He tried to abuse his wife, when Juan stepped between them and the bullet from a small caliber rifle passed through his thigh. It partially crippled him.

Thinly clad and suffering from lack of food, Mrs. Gonzalez gathered her babe to her breast and calling to her daughters, left the house. Juan came after, crawling along on the ground, dragging his almost helpless limb after him. They finally reached the home of a farmer who took them in and sent for a constable. The husband was arrested later.

The husband will swear that he left money in the home and that he always provided the necessities of life. His wife, son and the other children able to testify, will deny this.

MERRY EASTER PARTY.

Parti-Colored Eggs, Ice Cream and Cake Gave Joy to Little Children of St. Elizabeth Day Nursery.

Fifty-two boys and girls, the children of poor and hard-working mothers, were entertained yesterday at a merry Easter party held at the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery.

The affair was a most happy one for the youngsters, who rolled and hunted eggs in the nursery gardens and amused themselves with games and Easter pastimes. Thirteen girl students of St. Mary's Academy attended the day. Ice cream and cake were served.

"An infant ward with five beds was formally opened at the nursery yesterday afternoon. The babies of hard-working mothers will be cared for here, Miss M. E. Hurley, matron, was in charge of the merry party.

TELL OF QUARREL.

The preliminary examination of John G. McKinney, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Richard J. Smith at Aviation Field last January, was resumed yesterday before Justice Young. The testimony of the defense, which was mainly as to the altercation between McKinney and Smith, and told how the latter was injured. It is the theory of the defense that the body of the field, through which the defendant's machine was passing, became so excited that heart failure resulted. The prosecution, on the other hand, holds that the impact of the automobile knocked Smith down and ruptured a blood vessel near the heart. The case will be resumed today.

RELATED VACATION.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford returned yesterday from a short vacation spent in the North. Owing to the exigencies of the McNamara trial, he did not get the usual summer vacation and his work with the grand jury. The Franklin and Darrow cases occupied his time up to a week or so ago.

TO PRISON OR HOSPITAL?

United States District Attorney to Decide Treatment of Thompson. Some Say Leg in Danger.

Whether Fred H. Thompson will be allowed to go to one of the city hospitals and have his lame leg treated now lies with the United States District Attorney. The Attorney-General, in a letter received by the Federal authorities yesterday, said that it is within the jurisdiction of the United States District Court to release Thompson temporarily under the circumstances, and that the department would allow the United States Marshal a fair amount for the pay of a guard to watch Thompson while in the hospital.

Judge Welborn thought that Thompson's leg could be treated as well at McNell's Island as at any Los Angeles hospital. He said that he would abide by the decision of the District Attorney, to whom the matter has been referred for final action.

If it is decided that in the interest of humanity the prisoner ought to be taken out and have the helpful assistance of his family during his treatment, such an order will be made, and the government will hire a guard to keep watch on him.

It is asserted by those who say they are in touch with Thompson's physical condition that it may be necessary to amputate the right leg.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

The ins and outs of a horse trade were discussed yesterday before Justice Forbes in the case against J. W. Mattox, accused of obtaining $250 from Mrs. Belle Helser by means of false pretenses. The case rested on the fact whether a brown mare that was traded in to the complaining witness was sound and sure-footed. Some of the witnesses swore she was not worth 50 cents and others declared she was a fine animal. The court held that there was insufficient testimony to warrant holding the defendant and dismissed the complaint.

SHE DOES NOT APPEAR.

Mrs. Hall Fails to Go and "Confess" Smuggling, but Federal Officials Aren't Disappointed.

Mrs. Ethel Hall, the alleged smuggler, did not appear before an assistant United States District Attorney yesterday, to "confess" her part in the Comrade affair.

There was no desire on the part of the officials that she should tell her story and inasmuch as her recital did not compass her guilt there was no disappointment.

Capt. Charles T. Connell, immigration inspector in charge, said: "We are not asking Mrs. Hall to confess anything; it is unnecessary; we understand fully that she is trying to protect Antonio Felix, for whom she deserted her husband, Edmond Hall, and when the trial is called in June we shall prove them both guilty. There is no question about that."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Robinson, who has the matter in charge, said: "Mrs. Hall can secure no promise of immunity from this office. We are in a position where we are not compelled to give it. She has been badly advised. She should have pleaded guilty upon her arrest. At that time the government was not in possession of all the facts. But Mrs. Hall, like others accused, cannot see what is best for them to do. She has been advised to plead guilty by her brother, who knows what the evidence against her is, but she is a headstrong, self-willed woman, and seems determined to have her way. Well, she shall have it—until the hearing comes on."

THINKS LIFE WITHOUT PROMISE.

Despondent over his inability to gain admittance into the County Hospital, where he hoped treatment would relieve his paralytic condition, the officials deciding he was a subject for the poor farm, Simon Greenbaum, an elderly man, tried to commit suicide at No. 322 1/2 East First street yesterday by drinking chloroform and hair restorer. Although unconscious when taken to the Receiving Hospital, his life was saved by heroic treatment. Later in the day Greenbaum was sent to the County Hospital, the officials keeping him because there was no one at No. 322 1/2 East First street to take care of him.

TO TAKE HIM NORTH.

Deputy Sheriff White of Tacoma reached here yesterday with extradition papers from the Governor of Washington to take J. Ryan back to Tacoma. Ryan is charged with non-support.

SLIPS ON THE ICE.

W. R. Price, No. 740 Crocker street, went to the Receiving Hospital yesterday with the tenth rib on the left side fractured. He sustained his injury by falling over a piece of ice at the Lankershim Hotel.

LOOKS BAD.

Alleged burglars stole Gov. Wilson's grip containing his private letters. It is to be hoped that the burglar has not gone in for practical politics.

CLOSE COMMUNION.

A retired music publisher will establish a Southern California colony for worn-out actors which he will name the Artists' Paradise. A rank outsider might call it something else.

TOO SMART.

It is all right for the early bird to be early as long as the worm does not take to sleeping late, but when the wits of the Maryland Legislature hold sessions at 1:30 a.m. in order to kill local-option measures they are rather more on the order of owls than of larks.

HAVE A CARE.

Many persons are injured and some are killed by stepping from wagons or street cars in the path of swiftly-approaching automobiles. Of course, on thoroughfares frequently traversed by pedestrians automobiles should always be under control, but pedestrians themselves are their own best protection, and carelessness on their part must often prove disastrous under the most favorable condition.

GOOD REASONS.

We can think of no more reasons and no better ones for a municipal auditorium in Los Angeles than the seven thousand persons who attended the Tetrazzini concert at Shrine Auditorium Sunday afternoon. About the only criticism any astute visitor has ever been able to make of this city is that it does not have a great public music hall where people can enjoy the best quality of entertainment at a minimum price.

UNIQUE APPRECIATION.

Dr. Burdette has written to the executive committee of the Taft Woman's Club that he has always been a strong Taft man, and that since he has considered the other candidates in the race he has become "Taftier than ever." He also told them that if his eastern publishers were not howling for copy and the sinner wasn't scraping the bottom of the flour barrel he would like nothing better than to spend a few months there to spend all of his time making Taft speeches.

EXACTLY.

The Saturday Evening Post intimates that Mexico cannot continue in a permanent state of revolution because, while Germany, England and other countries might cheerfully warn their subjects to leave Mexico, there is no method by which all of the foreign capital invested can take flight for its protection. The point is well taken. The richest legacy which wise old Diaz left his people was this complication of industrial development which will demand a state of peace.

MAKING UP A DEFICIT.

The Associated Charities is to give a tag day May 4 in order to have funds with which to carry on a well-organized and important work. The society has used all the money at hand and has not paid the salaries of its employees for the last two months. It is not the few chronic poor of the city who make the greatest drain on the society's funds. The larger number of calls for aid come from those who have only recently arrived and who did not bring with them sufficient funds to tide them over financially until they could fully establish their independence.

WAITING TO KNOW.

A New York woman now in Los Angeles uses another woman for large damages for the alienation of her husband's affections. Love neither comes at one's bidding nor can it be held by the will or by the law. Whatever is natural in the affections is quite beyond cold reason, but too many persons are ready to be swept by the unnatural and ready to have the values of love confused and destroyed by the glamor of an unproved infatuation. Love is the one thing that cannot be taken unless it is given, and it is very difficult to hold one party morally or financially responsible for what must be both voluntary and mutual.

OCCUPATION RISKS.

Occupational mortality in Prussia is summarized by the Berlin correspondent of the Journal of the American Medical Association from statistics published by the Prussian government. The report says: "If the three principal means of livelihood, agriculture, industry and commerce, are compared with each other the most unfavorable mortality—14.25 per 1000—is shown by commerce. Agriculture is only a little more favorable, being 14.01, while industrial vocations have a percentage of only 11.50 per 1000."

Among the trades the metal trades make the most favorable showing, the building trades next and the textile fabrics last.

In analyzing the longevity of members of the different classes it will doubtless appear that the country farmer who follows the plow does not live so long as the city farmer who sits on the fence and watches the hired man follow the plow. In commerce the bookkeeper outlives the traveling salesman, and in the trades, whoever saw a bald-headed, white-whiskered plumber? Remorse sends him to the cremation furnace at an early age.

The Chinning of the West.—T. R.

TRAITORS, SAYS LA FOLLETTE.

With the emphasis of a volcano La Follette has spoken. In a statement issued in answer to the pop-gun charge of Gov. Johnson and the other insurgents the Wisconsin candidate for President has declared the Pinchots, Medill McCormick, Record, Henry and the rest of the present Roosevelt support to be "deserters" and traitors, and their attempt to make a scapegoat of Walter L. Houser, La Follette's manager, to be "cowardly perversion." In what La Follette says the appearance of mighty truth is plain. And nothing he says is plainer than this:

"They know that no persons authorized the withdrawal of my candidacy and no person ever professed to have such authority. They know I have persistently refused to withdraw in favor of Roosevelt or anyone else and I told them again and again that once having entered into the contest I would not back out."

And, if that is not plain enough, he says he told Pinchot and his friends:

"I would not play a double game or be a stool pigeon for Roosevelt or anyone else."

According to La Follette, Pinchot professed to be for him; but he and his associates were in fact Roosevelt supporters, and they insisted, long before the desertion, upon coupling Roosevelt with La Follette, and "this, too, while Col. Roosevelt was protesting that he was not a candidate."

La Follette's recital is confirmatory of all that has been established without his testimony. That long ago the bully of Sagamore Hill was a candidate for a third term, and that he was using, or trying to use, La Follette as a stalking horse, had been established, but not by such important testimony as that of La Follette himself.

And the center of this group that professed La Follette only to betray him was Pinchot, the sneak—yes, sneak—while Roosevelt slaughtered beasts in Africa and who seems to have been charged with the duties of a spy. He had much trouble in picking a quarrel with the President, but he finally did it by betraying the confidence that the President reposed in him. It is this Pinchot who has nursed the La Follette candidacy, appreciated by him and his ilk as "hopeless" and a mere expedient to hold the malcontents together until such a time as the ex-President, with monumental ambition and egotism, decided to come out in the open. All the while La Follette was pursuing his "hopeless" candidacy, the Pinchot group, with George W. Perkins and Medill McCormick in the background, was plotting the betrayal of the La Follette strength into Roosevelt's hands. In this case Pinchot sought to gratify his revenge on the President and perform his prophetic duty to the man who would like to be President forever. Any sense of the much boasted "square deal" for La Follette is entirely absent from this group, according to all the testimony. When La Follette faced physical collapse the treacherous Pinchot took advantage of the distress of the man he professed to follow by announcing his stand for Roosevelt. And La Follette shows in his statement that five days after Pinchot had separated from him he made known the separation for political effect to help Roosevelt and hurt La Follette.

If this isn't perfidy between friends then La Follette has little claim to sympathy. It certainly is political treachery, and La Follette does not hesitate to designate it as "desertion" and cowardice.

This is insurgency's dispute, a natural one when the characters of the men engaged in it are studied. In California we have seen just how the Pinchot process worked. Henry, Stimson and Rowell, alarmed because the La Follette movement might take such definite form Roosevelt could not control it, met in Los Angeles in January and declared the "progressive movement on." Henry was fresh from Roosevelt. Something had to be done. For weeks not another step was taken. Then at a signal from the two-faced Johnson, after the dream of the Vice-Presidency caught him, the State machine switched in a night to Roosevelt along with all the other La Follette pretenders.

La Follette has performed a public service in stating the facts. They disclose the utter hopelessness of insurgency and they offer such a contrast with the orderly and honorable progress of the President's candidacy on a sound Republican platform that no Republican wishing to perpetuate the principles that have come down from Lincoln will give his aid to the quarrelling factions. Their personalities are besmirched; their doctrines are evil. Perilous ambition lurks behind insurgency. Republican success will come in the fall from a thorough appreciation of what La Follette told and from the conscience of the bulk of the party that has preserved the nation for half a century.

THE COUNCIL AND ELLIOTT.

Worth and ability were discounted and the pursuit of a political job-hunter was put at a premium when the Council passed over a large number of men of large caliber fit to send to Washington to urge the deepening of the outer harbor and selected John B. Elliott as one of three to represent Los Angeles before Congress and the War Department.

In choosing Gen. Chaffee and Mr. Gibbon the Council showed discretion because both have been in active charge of the official harbor progress for several years. Both are acquainted with its needs and are of such character and ability that they may be depended on to help win for Los Angeles what she asks. But they should have been assisted by two or three others of the same representative character—men in whom the Chamber of Commerce has confidence and who are known to be at home in big enterprises. Instead of such aid the Council has selected Elliott in order to give him a "joy ride" to the Capitol where he was once a press representative. The Times cares nothing about him, personally; but he knows nothing of the harbor work or its needs and his presence before Congress, a committee of Congress, or a single member, cannot be of any benefit. He is absolutely destitute of the knowledge or ability demanded. He will "queer" the whole committee.

The city is asking with good reason that Congress provide for the dredging of a thirty-six-foot-deep basin in the outer harbor, coincidentally with the work on the Huntington fill and preparatory to the development of the city's 146-acre tract west of the Miner fill. This basin is the need of the deep-draught vessels of commerce that are to come by way of Panama. As to all this work Elliott is a comparative stranger. Otherwise he represents nothing but a wish to get a job and take a ride to the Capitol at public expense.

And peanut statesmen of the Council have injured the efficiency of the committee authorized to represent the city by taking care of a small-bore newspaper politician out of a job. The Council should be ashamed of itself. It has abused a great opportunity to be of real service to the people. It has betrayed a pettiness of which it has been accused by its enemies. It has demonstrated that Go-go-go politicians can go further than almost any others in perverting public office into a private snip.

THE POLICIES OF PRESIDENT TAFT.

Prominent among the policies of President Taft, for the carrying out of which he should be renominated and re-elected, stand the following:

Peace with all the world through just dealing and preparedness for war.

The upholding of a righteous and independent judiciary.

Neither race nor creed to be a bar to appointment to office.

Economy and efficiency in the government service, including the care of superannuated employees.

The accomplishment of the penny postage through postal economies.

Full protection of American citizens at home and abroad.

The scientific study of industrial conditions, and scientific revision of the tariff on a protective basis through the non-partisan tariff board.

Revision of the currency laws and thereby the prevention of panics.

Extension of acts for practical conservation of the public resources.

Treaties of arbitration, approved by the Senate of the United States, with England, Germany, France and the other principal countries of the world.

Establishment of a parcels-post system as early as it can possibly be done.

The enactment of a Federal incorporation act and thereby putting a stop to the too frequent bailing of corporations, as well as to excesses of power on their part.

The upholding to full extent of State's rights when not in conflict with Federal authority.

International investigation of the causes of the high cost of living.

The setting of a high standard in Federal appointments of every class.

The keeping of the republics of South and Central America in harmonious relations with the United States.

By fair dealing with the new republic of China to insure continuance of the "open-door" policy in that country to the benefit of American trade there.

To keep the United States in the forefront of the nations of the world; to defend the American flag and all it stands for in the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam and wherever and whenever it floats to the breeze; to so guide the affairs and intercourse of our nation that each one of us may be proud at all times to say, "I am an American."

ARIZONA CORPORATIONS.
A The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that judgments against the stockholders of a corporation obtained in one State may be filed in other States and made a lien against property in the State in which they are filed.

This decision will do much to discourage the birth and nursing of wildcat corporations in Arizona, for it will deprive stockholders in them of that immunity from personal responsibility which an Arizona incorporation was supposed to afford, and to obtain which the authors of such corporations are willing to pay double fees—one set to obtain existence in the sun-kissed commonwealth, and another set to continue existence in the State where they do business.

Arizona has for many years shared with Delaware the bad eminence of being a sovereignty where a corporation for any purpose, honest or dishonest—and generally the latter—could find a natal place and a kindly home.

An Arizona corporation was, however, subject to one disadvantage which Statehood will remove. It could not begin or transfer a cause to a United States court on the ground of diverse citizenship, for this privilege, given to citizens of States, was held not to apply to citizens of Territories, and a corporation is, under the law, as much a citizen, although it cannot vote, as a natural person.

Under the law in California a corporation created in another State stands on an equality of right and privilege with a corporation created in this State. But it is subject to the same restrictions. Its stockholders are individually liable for their proportion of its indebtedness, notwithstanding that the Arizona law attempts to relieve them from such individual responsibility. The State Legislature of Arizona, now in session, has pending before it a bill to curtail the privileges heretofore enjoyed by Arizona incorporations. The Arizona Legislature is virtuous—in some things. The sage-brush solutions will—

"Compound for sins they are inclined to." By damning those they have no mind to.

They will make it an offense for a California incorporation doing business in Arizona, which shall sue or be sued in an Arizona court, to transfer the case to the United States Circuit Court there. For a first offense five years' imprisonment will be the consequence. For the second offense the death penalty will be inflicted—probably. Exactly how a corporation is to be imprisoned or hanged does not at first sight appear; but somehow a method will be found to enforce the wishes of a community.

"Which wears upon its baby brow
The round and top of sovereignty."

CATCALL.
The Boston Commercial says that "the call of the people for which Theodore Roosevelt professes to be listening turns out to be a catcall of derision."

President Taft has at this date nine-tenths of the delegates elected, and the delegates from North Dakota and Wisconsin, who are for La Follette, are for Taft as a second choice and will not have Roosevelt at any price. It is a significant fact that Roosevelt's late running mate, Fairbanks, will head a Taft delegation from Indiana.

Col. Roosevelt is a candidate for the Presidential nomination on the simple but—to him—sufficient basis that he wants the job. His candidacy is strictly personal. He has not dared to announce himself as being on either side of the only national issue before the American people—protection to American industry on a scientific basis, as against free sugar, free wool, free citrus fruit, free rail and free hell to pay generally on an unscientific basis. Roosevelt has dropped all his old political principles and he has displayed very poor judgment in the selection of new ones, as in the case of his advocacy of reversing Supreme Court decisions by popular vote. He claims to be the pure, perfect and only champion of what he calls "the rights of the people." But it does not appear that any rights of the people are being invaded anywhere by anybody, or that they need the help or championship of Col. Roosevelt.

A Boston physician-professor seeks to excuse Roosevelt's faux pas on a psychological basis. It is a queer sort of psychology that leads him to garble quotations from Abraham Lincoln, to prove treacherous to La Follette and to preach the doctrines of Prudhomme, Karl Marx and Samuel Gompers.

When we remember what Roosevelt once was, and note into what a pit of infamy his crazed ambition has caused him to descend, we can but regret that he who was once the expectancy and rose of the far state has become "as mad as the vixen she singing aloud."

MACKAYE INDULGES IN IMPECCABLE EUGENICS.

BY WILLARD H. WRIGHT.

With the possible exception of Upton Sinclair's "The Naturewoman," it is safe to say that Percy Mackaye's "Tomorrow" attains the well-earned pre-eminence of being the most rapid and absurd play which America has yet produced.

It may be best described as Brieux's "Damaged Goods" rewritten for the indelicacy by the Rev. Dr. Sylvester Stat. Though the play deals with sterility, the requirements of eugenics, human propagation, the physical "crossing" of incompetents, the laws of hereditary diseases, the insanity which follows spirochete infection, and the advisability of breeding people like cattle—not a word or a reference is there throughout the three acts which could offend the most hypocritical.

Therein lies the keynote of the play; it is a verbal hypocrisy from beginning to end—eugenics sugar-coated for the bas-fall. The characters one and all resort to metaphysical rumble-bumble whenever the question of sex comes up, which is in every scene. Vague allusions, symbolism, innuendoes, references to flowers; shifty-eyed, what-a-young-girl-ought-to-know verbiage; references to stock breeding in ancient Egypt; dashes, caesuras, asterisks, whippers, gestures, riddles—anything to avoid mentioning the subject upon which the play is written. Not a character has the moral fortitude to mention the thing that he or she is continually talking about.

Everyone seems to be waiting for the other person to have the courage of frankness. But no one has sufficient daring, and so the dialogue of "Tomorrow" is comprised entirely of metaphysical jargon and verbalistic hide-and-seek. Even when the exigencies of the plot call for a mention of "evolution" the natural process is confined wholly to botany—in which realm of biology, as you know, the winds carry the pollen from flower to flower. "Tomorrow" is "advanced" puritanism—a Mendellian phantasy for babes.

Psychologically, so far as it is possible to judge, "Tomorrow" is the result of superficial reading along various lines of literature. The influence of the first and only Shavian can be detected in more than one place, but in his imitations Mackaye has selected the most un-Shavian of Shavian passages. This young Harvardian lacks both the wit and the daring of the author of "Man and Superman."

Then there are decided traces of Mendel (between the lines); and Brieux, diluted and sweetened, has been poured over every page. Nietzsche has added his quota to Mackaye's dramatic tract, and the Master-Huck of "Serres Chaudes" and "Princess Maleine" has been revived for us in the dialogue of the second act.

The story of "Tomorrow" is this: Mana, the daughter of a botanist, leaves a Senator who, according to rumor, is the son of a "tainted" father. Mark, the botanist's gardener, finding out that the Senator has inherited the "taint," tries to kill him. Whereupon Mana decides that, according to Mendel, she should marry the gardener for the betterment of the race.

From the standpoint of dramatic technique "Tomorrow" fails to meet any of the requirements of the modern drama. Its theme, while not fundamentally undramatic (witness "Ghosts" and "Damaged Goods") is handled in its one undramatic aspect. The first act, consisting largely of unintelligible and evasive dialogue, is without either consecutiveness or form. The characters move on or off the stage without motivation. When one set of characters has exhausted its vocabulary of innuendo, a second set enters and discusses eugenics from a different, though equally veiled, point of view.

The first half of the second act reads like a burlesque imitation of the dialogue of the early French symbolists, and lacks the drops, without warning or preparation, into such crude melodrama that a parallelism could not be found even in the plays of Hal Reid. Without provocation the gardener hurls the Senator over a precipice. This sensational device has no bearing on the theme of the play, the insanity as it is unwarranted by preceding events, and has no effect on subsequent events other than to keep the Senator off the stage during the last act. But, since Mackaye arbitrarily moves his puppets on and off the stage, it was quite unnecessary to have resorted to violence in order to have secured the Senator's absence.

The last act is drawn out over twenty minutes, apparently for no other reason than to let us know that the Senator will live, and to inform us that the heroine and the gardener are going to marry and raise superior children. But, inasmuch as we knew the latter fact in the first act; and inasmuch as it was unnecessary that the Senator should have been hurled over the precipice, the last act resolves itself logically into a dramatic superfluous.

"Tomorrow" is futile and absurd as a drama, it is even more preposterous as a treatise on eugenics. Mackaye's application of partially-understood biological laws to the incredible automata of his play is too glib to demand refutation. To assume the advisability of a mating between the supermen as represented in the person of Mana, who shows unmistakable signs of hallucinations and dementia praecox (vide second act where, in broad daylight, she quakes at the willow tree), and Mark, an untutored gardener, whose one claim to superiority lies in the fact that he is hasty and wears a red flannel shirt, is sufficiently absurd a proposition to make the most fastidiously eugenist quaff in derision.

Mackaye is undoubtedly our best dramatic poet. "The Canterbury Pilgrims" and "Sapho and Phao" are among the best poems of their kind in American literature. Let him return to his last. The social drama of ideas is obviously not in his line. "Tomorrow" at best is but superficial and hypocritical dallying with sex. Its style is pompous. Its form is execrable. Its characters are puppets. Its philosophy is wind. It is drivell.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS
S.S.S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound to heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the cause of the sores are no longer absorbed from the blood. The applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a cure because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they only delay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on the symptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the blood is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around the sores, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the sores a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure blood is responsible for Sores and Ulcers, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a cure. S.S.S. has long been recognized as the most powerful of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove the impurities from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S.S.S. keeps the blood in a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, pure blood, and thus makes the cure permanent and lasting. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

AD SIGNS TO MEET RIVERS.
Fourth of July Bout Looks Certain Now.
To Fight Ringside Weight; Pursue Secret.
Wolgast to Fight Ritchie in May.

Settled at Last.
Joe Rivers, the wonderful little Mexican fighter, will meet Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion of the world, July 4, at Vernon Arena. Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock the final papers were signed. All of the differences which have existed between Promoter T. J. McCarey, Tom Jones, et al, were adjusted, and the conference proceeded very amicably. Whether Wolgast or McCarey won their point in regard to the monetary consideration is not stated, and neither side will have a word to say about it. Joe Levy, manager of Rivers, and Tom Jones, representing Wolgast, met with McCarey, and for three hours they consulted behind closed doors. When they emerged their faces told the story before the decision could be announced. The weight is to be 133 pounds, ringside. No agreement has been reached as to the referee, and there is a fine young chance for trouble on this point, as Wolgast refused to stand for Charley Epton at the time of the Welsh fight. Wolgast says there is nothing in the articles to prevent his making all the fight dates he chooses before meeting Rivers, and last night took the liveliest interest in the following telegram received by the sporting editor of The Times: Sporting Editor of The Los Angeles Times: Will guarantee Ad Wolgast $10,000 to box Knockout Brown ten rounds (no decision) at Madison Square Garden. (Signed) TIM HURST. Matchmaker Madison Square Garden Athletic Club. "I don't seem to remember Tim Hurst," said Ad. "If he is the genuine article I will very likely accept the offer." It is understood that Ad will fight Willie Ritchie four rounds the first week in May in San Francisco. The proposed match between Joe Mandot and McCarey was postponed. Mandot himself is the cause of this, as at one time the match was closed up finally as far as the manager of the local fight club was concerned. Mandot then wired McCarey that he would demand $10,000 additional to the price at first stipulated. This was conceded by McCarey and again the contest was thought to be closed. A second time Mandot wired asking an increase of $10,000, and the message came after Wolgast and Jones had arrived in Los Angeles, and negotiations had been reopened between Rivers and Wolgast. Mandot's second offer was definitely rejected and McCarey entered into final arrangements with Jones and Wolgast. "I am mightily pleased at the arrangement of this match," said McCarey last night. "I have always liked Wolgast from the first time he fought here, and I have always tried to boost his affairs. I have also been a great

VERNON AND ANGELS READY FOR FIRST GAME THIS YEAR.
"We are 25 per cent. better than last year and we always play our best on the home grounds, so look out for what we will do to the Angels."—"Hap" Hogan.
"We owe the Vernons several good beatings for what they did to us last year, and I think we will pay them in full this week at Washington Park. Remember what we did last week to Portland."—"Hen" Berry.
At 1 o'clock sharp today the baseball parade will form in front of the City Hall. The players of the Vernon and Los Angeles teams and the city officials will occupy automobiles. The parade will proceed south on Broadway to Seventh, east on Seventh to Main, north on Main to Temple Block, south on Spring to Main and out to Washington Park.

HAP DISCUSSES UMPIRES AND PRAISES VERNON.
Tiger Leader in Interview on Eve of Opening Game on Local Grounds Tells How He Ruled Day When Chinese Team Played, and Ordered Real Arbitrators From Field—Tigers' Record in North.

B RIMFUL of optimism concerning his Vernon baseball team and fully persuaded that all umpires are incompetent or else full brothers to Ananias, Hap Hogan arrived in Los Angeles yesterday at the head of his happy-go-lucky and hard fighting Tigers.
"I have solved this umpire business completely," said Hogan yesterday, "there is nothing to it. It is as easy to umpire a baseball game as it is to eat a good meal if you're hungry."
"I speak where I know," and he rolled his eyes dangerously around him. "I umpired a game between the Chinese baseball team from Honolulu and the city league team of Sacramento last week and I had no trouble. Therefore I hold that if a man can umpire a game in which Chinks are engaged and get away with it without a kick he should know something about umpiring."
"I invited Umpires Casey and Finney of the Pacific Coast League to come and see me umpire and learn a few lessons in this gentle art. They came to the game and I feel sure that they are covered with shame and embarrassment as a result. There was not a kick on my umpiring and judgment and if there had been it would not have lasted long."
"Finney and Casey tried to come out on the field while I was umpiring so that they could see the plays closer and I sent them back to their benches without delay," and Hogan smiled thoughtfully.
"All you have to do in a baseball game as umpire is to watch each play closely and tell the result and that is what I did and there was no kick."
It was suggested mildly that he had been sent to the bench by these same umpires in the first game between Vernon and Sacramento and his explanation was sought.
"Why, I only stood up for what I thought was right, and because I like the game and generally speak out loud what I think, I was sent to the bench. But then, I am accustomed to it and the umpires think that some rule would be violated if they did not bench me whenever I open my mouth. Whenever I see that a play has been misjudged and think positively that it has been, why I simply cannot help blasting out my objections, and I always do it as mildly as I can."

"TIMES" MARATHON GIVEN OFFICIAL SANCTION.
Course Covered and Approved by Sebastian, Murray and Butler of Police Department—Sky Eagle Enters Race—Soldiers Attract Attention, Entries Pouring In. Trial Run Wednesday.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.
Announcement.
YESTERDAY afternoon The Times Modified Marathon received the official sanction of the Los Angeles police department. The Chief of the force, C. E. Sebastian, Capt. A. W. Murray and Lieut. J. T. Butler, head of the traffic squad, were taken over the course by the directors of The Times Modified Marathon in a "Garford Six." The others in the party were Pat Higgins, who has charge of the maintenance of the way, and Bert Eling, secretary of the Marathon, and the writer. Coach Pipal of Occidental College was to have gone with the party, but owing to the late start made, was unable to make the trip, though he was on hand all ready to go in the morning.
For the first time in their lives the directors of the race felt safe as they had the arm of the law on their side. The Chief, captain and lieutenant expressed themselves greatly in favor of all forms of public athletics and outdoor sport and said that the force would see that The Times Marathon had every possible chance on the day of the race.
The party left the City Hall at 3:30 o'clock and was taken to the start of the course at First and Broadway. It was explained to the officers that all the runners would be bunched along the street at the start and not run off in bunches, as was thought the case by some, though the members of the senior division will be started off about forty-five minutes ahead of the rest of the runners, thus making the race between the veterans a separate affair. It would not be fair to have them compete with the members of the rising generation, as they have served their time and won their spurs but this time are out just to show the public what clean living and steady athletic training will do for an old man.
ALONG THE ROAD.
The Chief was very much interested in The Times Marathon, as nothing exactly like it had ever come to his notice. After showing the members of the force where the race is to start the big white Garford was shot up Broadway to Temple street and then out Beaudry. The first stop was made at Sunset boulevard, where the course turns off Beaudry. This is the first checking station and is just one mile from the start. It was explained to Lieut. Butler that, as the runners are likely to be bunched here the matter of checking would be rather difficult, and he at once said he would see that the station was well taken care of, keeping the approach clear for a matter of a hundred yards along Beaudry, thus giving the men in the station a chance to get all the numbers as the runners speed by.
The rest of the stations were pointed out without any stop till the course reached the confines of Hollywood. Here the captain came to the front with the suggestion that this part of the route be turned over to the Hollywood squad on the day of the race and that they be advised of the matter at once. While going down Western avenue, Chief Sebastian wanted to know how many of the runners would get that far. He said it seemed a long way to him and that he would be ready to shake hands with any athlete who would keep running that far and then finish. When he was told that most of them would be still going at this point, which is only half way home, he said it is a fine game for those who like it, but he begged to be excused himself.
TROUBLE AT WILSHIRE.
The first snag on the trip came when the car turned off Western avenue and tried to horn its way down Wilshire. Here they are putting in a storm drain, and if the size of the pipes can be taken as a criterion, the city must be expecting another flood of the same size that visited this footstool during the days of our friend Noah. Anyway, the street was impossible, so we switched around and went down Sixth street to Westlake Park. Lieut. Butler and Chief Sebastian said that if the road was not open along Wilshire by the time of the race, it would not make any difference as to the distance, as Wilshire and Sixth streets are parallel from Western to the park. If this is done the course will cross over on Park View to the home of Gen. Otis, where the last checking station will be situated, and will then go through Westlake Park to Seventh street, and then down Seventh to the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the finish.
TRAFFIC PROBLEM.
The traffic problem confronted the officers of the force as the "Garford" came down Seventh street. The bad spots will be at Grand avenue and Olive street. The matter was solved by the officers with precision and dis-

NEW L.A.A.C. GYM OPENS.

Boasting to Be Big Feature of Training.

New Classes Planned for Business Men.

Swimming and Fencing Will Have Boosters.

BY DEWITT VAN COURT.

The beautiful new gymnasium of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, which is the largest and best equipped in the world, was formally thrown open yesterday at noon.

Twenty-five members reported for the first session of the noonday business men's class. Among them are some of the best athletes in California and they run the gamut to the staid but enthusiastic business man who is determined to take advantage of the classes to keep himself in condition after the wear and tear of his business affairs. Prof. Al Treloar put them through a light exercise and will later increase this to more arduous work as they fit themselves for it.

One of the features of the club's new gymnasium will be the boxing contests and lessons. A great interest is apparent among the well-to-do young business men of Los Angeles and many of them have taken up boxing.

In fact, the impetus that has been given to boxing as an amateur sport throughout the country is reflected in the new club and it is intensely interesting to see the possibilities of the amateur boxers, should they turn their attention seriously to the game.

Good judges of boxers who have seen Cliff Reisman, Clark Jargstorff, Walla Wheeler, Ernie Clark, Roy Snyder, Ivan Kahn and Emil Becker box at the club have stated that these young men would easily win their spurs in the professional ring, should they ever turn their attention seriously to the game.

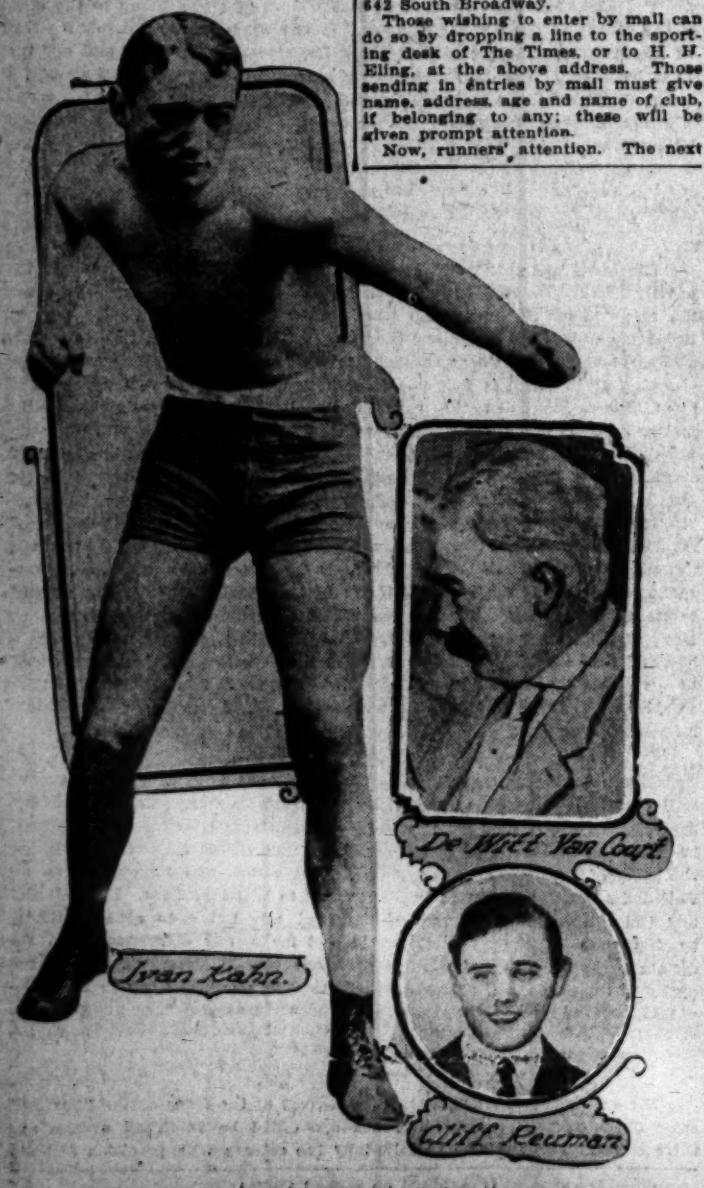

All of these men are coming back to the boxing game and say that they will again get in the best of condition, which should result in some excellent amateur contests at the club.

The special interest at the new gymnasium yesterday was the business men's classes. It was an interesting sight to see men of all ages in their neat, exercising costumes, each earnestly working to develop his body in some manner. Prof. Treloar promises to introduce several new stunts to this class which will more effectively develop their strength and muscles and take them back to their younger days.

One of the features which Prof. Treloar will introduce will be an indoor baseball league among the members of the club. Teams will be formed of both old and young members. A few years ago, in the old club quarters, indoor baseball was tried and a great deal of amusement and good exercise was secured. It was a common sight at that time to see staid business men arguing about some play with all of the enthusiasm of boys in a vacant lot.

Considerable interest is being taken among the members of the club in fencing, and Prof. Upton has a large class of fencers which is increasing right along. The handball courts have been in use for the last month and have been proven to be excellent and very fast. They have been pronounced as true as a billiard table. The swimmers have a magnificent tank on the sixth floor, which has a constant stream of pure, filtered water running into it. Water-polo games promise to come into great popularity owing to the excellent facilities that the tank affords for the game.

Prof. Frank Holborow is the swimming instructor and in charge of the big tank. He has found some of the best swimmers in California among the members of the athletic club.

patch. Motorcycle police will be stationed at Pico and Seventh streets and will take the runners in as they come down Seventh street. These motorcycle men will go a little in front of the runners and will give the sign to the officers stationed at the crossings, who will hold traffic as each man passes.

The finish of the race was changed a little. Instead of finishing in front of the L.A.A.C. building on Seventh street the tape will be stretched across Olive street, and this street will be roped clear from Sixth to Seventh streets, and the corner on Olive and Seventh will also be kept clear, but the cars along Seventh will not be stopped, as with this arrangement the runners will not have to cross Olive but will turn up there. This makes no difference in the distance, and will keep the finish clear.

The inspection of the course ended at this point, and the chief, captain and lieutenant were taken to their respective offices, highly pleased with the project. They were greatly interested in the race and the men who are going to run in it, asking many questions on condition and former records of the contestants now entered.

With men like Chief Sebastian, Capt. Murray and Lieut. Butler behind the Times Modified Marathon it is bound to be a success, as is everything else undertaken by these public-spirited officials.

ATTENTION, RUNNERS.

There are a few announcements to be made in regard to the marathon which will interest those who are going to run, and all those who still expect to enter. In the first place the entry list is not closed and will not be till twenty-four hours before the race. No one is barred, and the more the merrier. Entries will be received by H. H. Eling, at No. 435 South Spring street, or at the sporting desk of The Times with the writer, and blanks can be obtained at all the sporting goods houses in the city. Pat Higgins and Puss Hal- briter also have the papers in hand. The former can be found in the Higgins building, and the latter at No. 442 South Broadway.

Those wishing to enter by mail can do so by dropping a line to the sporting desk of The Times, or to H. H. Eling, at the above address. Those sending in entries by mail must give name, address, age and name of club, if belonging to any; these will be given prompt attention.

Now, runners' attention. The next trial spin over the course will be held tomorrow afternoon (Wednesday) at 2:30 p.m. The runners will be followed by the board of directors in autos and auto trucks. Every attention will be given the men while on the course. The runners will gather at the new Times Building, First and Broadway, at 2:15 o'clock. Bring a suitcase for your clothes, these will be taken care of by the directors, and when the course is finished will be given to the runners while they are being rubbed down at the Western Athletic Club. The contestants will be taken from the finish to the Western Athletic Club in autos, which is directly opposite The Times office on Spring street. All those wishing to go over the course tomorrow will please send in their names to Bert Eling at Spalding's, or to Bird at the sporting desk of The Times.

This will be the last trial run before the day of the race.

MANY FEATURES.

There are many features in this race besides winning the first prize. And the actual competition over the course. Owing to the fact that there are seven checking stations along the route, it will be possible for any athlete to find out what he can do a certain distance in, all runners being checked at the stations as to time and place, and a full report made on the next morning in The Times. There are many runners who would like to know how fast they can do five, six, or seven miles. Well, here is the chance.

The military feature of the race is attracting world-wide attention. The fact that three marching squads from the Seventh Regiment are going out for the light marching record, has aroused a lot of interest. There are two prizes up for the members of the national guard. In the first place, Gen. Ols will give the marching squad first over the line, a splendid trophy; then Gen. Wankowski has offered a cup for the first man over the line running under the colors of the Seventh Regiment. It is a splendid trophy, and the man who wins it will have a chance at this. With these cups up, the soldiers should make a fine closed-up, regular trophies for the men competing in among the first fifteen. At the present time, there are three marching squads training for the race and a team of seven runners will go against time in the regular race for the regiment.

SKY EAGLE ENTERS.

Another original American entered the race yesterday afternoon in the person of George Sky Eagle, who will run as a teammate of Judson Cabay, who finished third in the Venice-to-Los Angeles road race, February 22. These Indians will likely run in the trial spin tomorrow afternoon, as a special invitation has been sent to them at Venice.

The pair are old schoolmates, but at the present time are in the cowboy business for a moving picture concern. They both have long records as cross-country runners and will make somebody hustle April 20.

If the entry list keeps swelling at the present rate there will be 150 runners at the start April 20 when the big race takes place. This office will gladly receive any questions on the subject of the race, and Spalding's books on cross-country running can be obtained without any charge at the Times Office from Arthur Lee.

UNITED LEAGUE SCHEDULE.

Many Dates Announced Will Conflict With Big Fellows—Will Be Sunday Games.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WRITER TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, April 8.—William A. Witman, president of the United States Baseball League, released the schedule of games last night. The schedule calls for 126 games beginning May 1 and ending September 28. The clubs are New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, Reading, Washington, Richmond and Cincinnati, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Chicago have all the Sunday dates.

It was announced that the franchise which was to go to Brooklyn has been transferred to New York. Eleven games would be played in New York, several of them being in conflict with major league games there.

SWIMMERS READY.

Redondo Will Be Scene of Olympic Tryouts in Aquatic Sports the Last of This Week.

President Wallace L. Robb of the Southern California Swimming Association reports that the entries are rolling in rapidly for the big swimming meet at Redondo Friday and Saturday of this week. Interest is running very high because of the fact that there is a good chance of one of the winners being sent to Stockholm to represent this country.

Today the team representing the San Francisco Y.M.C.A. will arrive in town with high hopes of returning in about a week with several scalps attached to their belts. Local swimmers are wondering if Ludy Langer is going to come back and retrieve his laurels lost in the meet at the L.A.A.C.

None of the southerners showed to much advantage in the Athletic Club tank because of the strangeness of swimming in fresh water, but this time they will be in their own element and are determined to get away with a great deal of interest centers in the honors as of old.

The duel between Langer and Johnson, the latter the one-legged rival of Reseigne. The northerner has a better record in both the 220 and the 440 than Langer, but as these records were made in the short fresh-water tanks, there is no telling what will happen when these two great swimmers meet.

Langer has not been in the best of condition since the Pacific Coast championships, as he has been attending school in Pasadena where he did not have the opportunity to train. He claims to be in much better condition now, however, and is going to give Johnson the race of his life.

One of the stars of the northern team is Grimes, the sprinter, and there has been much argument as to whether he or O'Malley was the better man. Both of them have a win to their credit over McWood of the Olympic Club and are holders with him of the Coast record for the 50-yard dash.

However, the northerner is not going to leave a walkaway, as there is still Cliff Bowers of L.A.H.S. to reckon with. This midget duck is not very far behind O'Malley when it comes to speed and he is likely to spring a surprise when he runs up against Grimes.

The locals have stirred up considerable interest and have entered no less than five teams against the northerners and the racing is bound to be awfully close. Ocean Park is putting a very fast team in the field and hopes to slip something over on the men from the north.

WILL PROTECT PREPS.

Occidental Recent Efforts to Bar Them from the Southern School Contests.

Occidental College is determined that its preps shall not suffer because of their having competed for the college against U.S.C. a few weeks ago. The powers that be in Southern California Intercollegiate circles have seen fit to bar the preps from both the county and the all southern meets, when they had a great chance to win both of these contests.

This action was taken on the ground that the preps had competed in a meet in which the contestants were other than high schools. The authorities of the northern meet are broad-minded enough to see that good competition means the promotion of good sportsmanship, and do not make any such ruling, so that the wearers of the orange and black are eligible for the big meet at Stanford.

The student body of Occidental College is now taking up a big subscription for the purpose of sending the preps up North. If possible a five-man team will be sent, so that they can have a relay team and a chance at the cup, which has been held by L.A.H.S. for several years.

The men who will be sent are Capt. Earl Annin, Johnny Cook, Sid Porter, "Slick" Beckis and "Buck" Sherwood. Annin is practically unbeatable in the mile and the half; Cook can run the quarter in close to 51 seconds; Porter is the star of the intercollegiate record for fifty yards; Beckis goes nearly six feet in the high jump, and Sherwood is a good quarter and half miler.

This bunch would be sure to make a good showing in the big meet, as they are all in the pink of condition and eager for a chance to compete against the best the State has to offer. As all but Beckis graduate this June it is their last chance to show in high school company.

Happy?—Yes!

Alex Druggins was running the being worse quitters than the best

Dan Johnson of Gilton is the silver-tongued orator of them all. Every time he opens his mouth he says something. At Hanning his poem about the beauty of the desert everyone with him from start to finish. He is right with the men of the valley towns and with the women of the mountain towns. He is in the movement which is to result in a great national highway and when he speaks of it he says that he will have many things to tell his friends about what happened during the tour through the valley towns and the route of the ocean-to-ocean highway.

Dell M. Potter of Arizona, one of the biggest boosters for the highway through the new State, is working alto help them build with the funds they are raising there for the project.

State aid for the highway through the valley route from Pomona to through Colton, Beaumont, Bannock and Mecca, to El Centro. That should be the route. The men of the valley towns should work for the week preceding the conference we are to have in Los Angeles. President John Mitchell of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, is just the man to place this matter before the State Board of Transportation. He should make an appropriation for the valley route the one selected by the Phoenix good roads convention, who will have a meeting in California and the national highway built in half that time.

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By JULIAN JOHNSON.

Truly, the days of the comedy of Manners are not over!

The theatrical portion of the town is agog (whatever in Pasadena that is) over this elaborate, bomb-throwing or nervous destination which brought Laurette Taylor and Harry Manners so suddenly, so precipitately, so mysteriously, so false-namely, to Los Angeles.

It turns out to be, not a tragedy, but a farce.

In which Mr. Manners, an English gentleman, in the guise of a valet, comes to the aid of a young girl, who is being persecuted by a villainous American, in the kitchen.

By the way, a headache powder has been lost somewhere on Broadway or Spring street. Finder will return powder, and prescription therefor, to Miss Taylor, Hotel Alexandria.

This powder is guaranteed to make a valet feel sorry for Pierpont Morgan in seven minutes to cure headaches, kill the patient half the time, and do other wonderful things.

Miss Taylor had a headache yesterday afternoon, and, having sent this prescription out—it was the only one she had—promptly lost track of it.

Miss Taylor, in a string of jade beads (and if I remember correctly there were some other dainty articles of apparel) lounged elegantly in her apartment last yesterday afternoon.

"It was this way," smiled Miss Taylor, in a patient and explanatory mood.

"I was very tired, the role of Luana had practically exhausted my nervous force, and I begged Mr. Manners to let me have a few weeks' rest before coming to Los Angeles to work in my new plays."

"But you know how it is—if I had stopped work in New York I would simply have been showered with invitations for parties, week-ends and days-by-the-sea, which I simply could not have refused. So I was at my wits' end."

Then Mr. Manners came to the rescue.

"Why can't we just get on the train and go quietly to Los Angeles without telling anybody?"

"My answer to that is shown in the fact that we came."

"About a hundred miles out a nice gentleman by the name of Mr. Pike approached me mysteriously and suggested that I register under an assumed name."

"I protested that I had never done such a thing in my life."

"But you'll be bothered to death by people who'll want to see you—and besides, if it gets out Ollie'll know that I told."

"No to please Mr. Pike I became 'Mrs. Tyler' on the Alexandria register."

"And Mr. Manners, who rather approved of the idea, became 'Mr. Hartley'."

"And then The Times said that, in all probability, we'd eloped, and Mr. Manners really felt dreadfully."

"He felt so bad that I was quite alarmed."

"Hartley, I said, 'If I have compromised you I certainly am willing to marry you.'"

"But he had a still different suggestion."

"I believe—he was quite serious—that we'd best go back to New York right away, and come out all over again, properly chaperoned."

At this juncture the visitor bowed.

"If you're not married, are you—are you—going to be married?"

Miss Taylor glanced demurely down at her red slipper.

"Well—I haven't been asked yet!"

Doctor and Mrs. Treen are spending the first few days of their honeymoon at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach.

Mrs. Treen will long be remembered as Helene Sullivan, of the Belasco Stock Company.

After honeymooning for another twenty-four hours at the Virginia, Treen will hasten to San Francisco, there to embark for a month's absence from California, Honolulu being the objective point.

The stage will know no more of Helene Sullivan.

There was a reunion of "The Truth Wagon" folk at the offices of the Moroco-Blackwood company yesterday morning.

First, Harry Mestayer and Muriel Starr exchanged greetings.

"Wonderful country this Southern California, isn't it, eh, what?" exclaimed Miss Starr to Mr. Mestayer.

"Yes, simply wonderful," replied Harry. "You just ought to see the lovely press notices I used to garner hereabouts."

"Hello, Hayden," chorused both Miss Starr and Mestayer, as Hayden Talbot came into the room.

Talbot had something to do with "The Truth Wagon."

He wrote the piece, you know, Talbot says "The Truth Wagon" is going to have another chance for its theatrical life in Chicago, in September.

Fainless Patterson!

What eminent dental surgeon does the name instantly call to your mind? It does!

of Miss Farrington will be known hereabouts.

Her successor at the Belasco will enjoy anything but what is commonly known as a "snap."

Ralph Harlan, the manager of William A. Brady's company playing "Over Night" at the Hamburger Majestic, is proud of two things:

He is a brother of Otis Hoffman, the western comedian, who is now playing the principal comedy role in Henry W. Savage's performance of "Little Boy Blue" at the Loric Theater, New York.

The second reason for the Harlan touch of pride is the fact that his professional cards bear the statement that he is a dentist.

A regular D. D. S. fellow!

Harlan doesn't care particularly for theatricals as a business.

When William A. Brady asked Harlan to take charge of the western tour of the "Over Night" company, his first thought was what a fine opportunity it would be to inspect the geography of the United States with a view to finding a good town in which to hang out his D. D. S. sign.

So he signed the Brady contract for forty weeks.

The third week of the season, Harlan and the "Over Night" company visited the town of Gaston, Ala. It was an off night, hurriedly filled in by the advance agent of the company, and everybody in the Brady organization felt as though the end of the world had been reached when the troupe alighted from the Alabama Midland train and camped the town of Gaston.

"Rand & McNally surely missed this burg," grunted Sam Hardy.

"Didn't have type fine enough to print it on their county maps," asserted Tom Emory.

That afternoon Manager Harlan discovered that Gaston did not boast of a dentist among her professional men.

"The very town I've been looking for. Me for the telegraph office to wire in my resignation to Brady," was the Harlan announcement.

Brady wired back a polite but none matter of filling newspaper space, but genuine, advertisement.

Miss Starr's first appearance at the Burbank will be made in "The Stranger," in which she will be seen in her original role.

"The Stranger," by the way, is the handwork of Charles T. Dasey.

When James K. Hackett first made use of the plot it was labeled "A Son of the South."

Later, when Charles Richman tried it, he called it something else.

When Wilton Lackaye presented the Dasey work he renamed it "The Stranger."

Oh, yes—Miss Starr has a lot of that gingery exhibition that bespeaks something interesting in the way of acting just as soon as she gets her chance.

John Burton is manifesting evidences of real anguish.

"The Squaw Man" is interfering with Burton's reappearance in the title role of David Harum at the Burbank.

John is not exactly peevish or anything of the sort, but he does heartily wish that "The Squaw Man" would hurry up and get out of the way.

Those young actors always were an impatient bunch.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 Press Agent Bartlett of the local Pantages branch of the United States mint left on my desk a glowing account of the opening of the new San Diego branch of the same on Monday night, in which it was narrated that Alex. Pantages and Mrs. Pan were present, and that Mrs. Pantages performed with opening ceremony in person, being the first to appear in a violin number.

Later in the evening, presumably about 7:30, the same industrious individual deposited a second account of the same event, in which it is stated that the theatricals of the state of the weather the Pantages automobile did not hit the San Diego road yesterday, and that Mr. Pantages counted cash on Broadway, Los Angeles, instead of C street, San Diego.

The two statements are presented for the edification of the distrustful individuals, who believe that press agents are liars—likely to make mistakes at times. They show a degree of conscientiousness and veracity that is a credit to the craft.

Coach Pital Springs surprise by Shunting Young Huskies into Field. Baseball Men Have Busy Week.

Things are booming in the athletic line out at Occidental this week in spite of the agitation over the co-edification problem. Yesterday afternoon Coach Pital inaugurated spring football practice and was surprised to have twenty husky aspirants show up in addition to the men on the baseball squad.

The men were put in charge of ex-Capt. Harold Landreth, and were given thorough workout to loosen up their muscles. After a little punting and passing a team was lined up and an easy set of signals worked out and the men ran signals for the remainder of the afternoon.

The signal practice was merely an excuse for putting some system into the work as there were no formations made, the men indulging in passing practice after each play, every man on the squad handling the ball before the next play was called.

The baseball men have a busy schedule for this week. On Saturday afternoon will be the first big game with U.S.C. and to prepare for this there will be games played today, tomorrow and Thursday. The men are at present in a slight slump in their batting, but expect to be in fine shape by Saturday.

EDDIE MURPHY MAY MEET JOE MANDOT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, April 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since Packy McFarland has refused entirely to talk business with promoters as to a second match with Eddie Murphy, plans are now being laid for a set-to between Murphy and Joe Mandot.

Murphy has agreed to meet the Mandot had a tentative date at Los Angeles for an argument with Joe Rivers, but the dates advanced for May 10 or July 4. Mandot could meet Murphy within three weeks.

A green fancy basket filled with white peas graced the center of the table while the other dainty appointments were carried out in the same green and white scheme. Twelve guests enjoyed the feast.

Miss Ryan Leaves. Miss Fannie Ryan, the attractive daughter of Mrs. S. L. Waite of No. 2820 Kenwood avenue, left Friday with a party of friends for San Francisco, where she will spend a few days before sailing for Honolulu. She will remain on the island three weeks. Upon her return Mrs. Waite and her daughter, Miss Vivian, will journey to Alaska for their summer outing.

SHE MAKES SIXTEEN THOUSAND BLOSSOMS.

PATTERNING her handiwork after beautiful blossoms outside her own window, Mrs. M. Bissett, who resides at No. 3612 South Olive street, yesterday completed 16,000 artificial roses, which will be used to decorate floats in the Shrine parade. Nature's roses, which are now budding and filling the air with their fragrance, will be plentiful. But they will not be strong enough to meet the demands of the impending cavalcade.

Mrs. Bissett has averaged 2500 roses a week for the past month and a half. She made them out of French not forget these rare bits of embonpoint. There are six of them, and their like has never before been seen on a local stage. This sextette alone comprises enough material to make several choruses complete.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

There are four scenes, an automobile, which blows up, a burlesque of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a circus performance, and several other things whose object it is to speed the dull hours and ward off inspection. Also—many beautiful parables and hyperboles.

Empire. Dear, delightful dancing girls, demure and dainty, make a happy splash in the programme at the Empire Theater this week. They belong to Joe Maxwell—or at least Maxwell personally conducts them, with the help of Julia Curtis, who keeps to the center of the stage most of the time, singing the time. The girls are all pretty and shapely, and they dance and warble with absolute enjoyment. At first they are little Dutch girls, then they are the Arctic explorers, sailor boys in tar-paulins, and so on. There is realistic and beautiful scenery—a heaving sea under a midnight sun, six-way lightning with reverberating thunder, and a downpour of rain that gets the little tar-paulins all wet and souse. Some of these little girls of Maxwell's, all right.

Mae Devlin and her company (of one) present a broadly farcical skit titled "The Girl From Yonkers." They give it with considerable punch. The girl is one of the light-fingered gentry, who gets away with almost everything the man possesses, including the telephone receiver screwed fast to the wall.

Laugh producers of much animation are Charles Merritt and Winfield Douglas. Their patter is all right, and they know how to dance. One of them is also an acrobat of no mean degree, and he works hard for the pleased audiences nightly yesterday. The Bennington Brothers, too, who are the real stuff in acrobatics, were in the program. They are of the kind of Hercules, with muscles of the knotty, rippling variety that don't hesitate to lift the world. The music of the week is furnished by Les Gougettes and Phil Bennett. Les Gougettes come from Paris, and play on all sorts of brassy instruments. One of them (the instruments, I mean), is so long that it reaches 'way across the stage. It lets out a moaning, rocking, springing, and other, curiously shaped, is balanced on Monsieur Gouget's teeth, from which vantage it discourses patriotic music. The other is a trombone, at one and the same time—a rather difficult feat. I imagine. Phil Bennett has a good voice and a pleasing personality. He sings a number of operatic airs in a taking way, and his yodling is fine. The audiences, indeed were both loth to let him stop, they enjoyed it so much. There's no laugh in the Laugh-O-Scope this week. Instead, it chronicles happenings that are thrilling and tragic, and no farther. A new departure which, I hope the Empress will stick to.

Pantages. The Pantages programme of this week is one of the best ever presented at that theater. This is no moderate degree of praise, for the average has been constantly high ever since the house opened some eighteen months ago.

It was at Pantages that Texas Tommy made his first bow in Los Angeles. What is probably his exasperating gap is also staged there. The act is "A Night in Frisco," and the participants are three couples who dance various figures with Lone Star Tom-ma prominently featured. This is the only weak spot in the programme, and its weakness is not so much inherent as comparative. It looks frayed in juxtaposition with the other vaudeville goods displayed on the same counter.

There is a school act. It is a good school act, because the school is so utterly bad. The only name featured on the programme in connection with this scholastic misconception is that of Jules Held. Jules is, maybe, the comedian in the act. If he is not then honor is not done where honor is due, for the real laughs emanate from the comedian aforesaid. The others, schoolmaster, girls and boys, are merely part of the scenery. They dance with a pleasing display of hosiery and frillery, sing with cleverly simulated childishness and romp Club Party. Mrs. C. C. Crandall entertained the Muskegon Club at her apartments at Hotel Nugent, Friday. The afternoon was arranged as a farewell courtesy to Miss Francis Smith, who is soon to conclude a winter's visit in this city. There were covers for thirty-five former residents of Muskegon, Mich., the honoree's home.

Another Wedding. Easter morning a pretty wedding was solemnized at the Westlake Presbyterian Church, when Rev. Landis united in marriage Miss Donna Elaine Dusan of Everett, Wash., and Jesse C. Starr of Woodland. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rose A. Dusan of No. 2211 West Tenth street. Only relatives were bidden to the service, and immediately after the young people left for a honeymoon trip to San Francisco.

Easter Breakfast. Miss Grace Mungen entertained with an Easter breakfast Wednesday at her home on West Twentieth street. Fourteen pretty girls in dainty yellow and white breakfast caps sat around a table decked with daffodils, yellow tulips and Easter chicks. In the games which followed Miss Ruth Chandler, Miss Anita Pease, Miss Mildred McClure and Miss Marjorie Ordway captured the prizes. Other guests were Miss Katherine Pratt, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Genevieve Shilling, Miss Evelyn Francis, Miss Lucille Lyon, Miss Bessie Norfleet, Miss Betty Brown, Miss Elizabeth Hay and Miss Margaret Bullen.

For Shriner Floats.

THE MAKING OF SIXTEEN THOUSAND BLOSSOMS.

PATTERNING her handiwork after beautiful blossoms outside her own window, Mrs. M. Bissett, who resides at No. 3612 South Olive street, yesterday completed 16,000 artificial roses, which will be used to decorate floats in the Shrine parade. Nature's roses, which are now budding and filling the air with their fragrance, will be plentiful. But they will not be strong enough to meet the demands of the impending cavalcade.

Mrs. Bissett has averaged 2500 roses a week for the past month and a half. She made them out of French with un-scholastic indecorum, all of which are essential features of every school act, but all this is merely background for an unnamed comedian whose individuality and method are unique and remarkable.

Alf Ripon is a Scotch ventriloquist hitherto unheard here. We have been missing a good thing. He comes near to realizing the ideal of ventriloquism. He speaks his dialogue and sings in a full round baritone with equally human accents in his own and the manikin's portion of the comedy.

The Shubert Musical Quartette dispense instrumental and vocal harmonies interspersed and entwined with the joyous foolery that makes these acts at home in vaudeville. Allman and Nevins as the country-girl fiddler and the wandering masquer with the tenor voice and theatrical aspirations are equally at home at Pantages—and for the same reason.

Princess. There is not a dull moment in the whole performance at the Princess Theater this week. The musical farce-comedy, "The Bogus Count," is supplemented by a series of exceedingly pretty living pictures containing some of the most beautiful young women in California.

As usual, Edmund Flynn is the chief mirth-maker in this bill. He has the able assistance of Miss Jeanne Moore and a cast of principals including O. J. Post, Otto Kaestner and Miss Nell McCune.

The musical numbers include: "A Cozy Flat," by Mr. Post; "I Don't Care Whose Girl You Were," by Mr. Kaestner; "Jungle Moon," by Miss McCune; "In the Shadows," a duet, by Messrs. Kaestner and Post; "The Navajo Rag," by Miss Hazel Baldwin; and "Sugar Cane," by Miss Moore.

Bonci. Los Angeles is indeed fortunate in securing the visit of the great comic in music; Tetraxini has just left us, and Emma Calve will soon be with us, and Bonci, the king of bel canto, sings at the Auditorium tonight. It has taken Bonci about ten years to become thoroughly conversant with the wants of the American public, and that is the reason the Bonci programmes have become so welcome to the music lovers of this country. Every singing teacher and student will be able to tell to his or her musical knowledge by listening to this evening's vocal act.

Tonight's programme contains the following numbers: "The M'Ami" (Giovanni Battista Pergolesi); "Il Pensier" (Joseph Haydn); "O del mio, Dolce Ardore" (Christoforo Gluck); "Vittorio Vittoria" (Giacomo Carissimi); "At Darning" (Charles W. FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

OLIVE GRAY

BEAUTY HINT: The person who has not sufficient vitality in the cold plunge each morning, may find equal benefit in first taking a dry rub, with the hands, and when the body is in a glow, by taking a rub with the hands wet in cold water. Finish with a dry Turkish towel. This substitute for the cold morning plunge has been found satisfactory by many, giving a glow to the entire body and enhancing the brilliancy of the complexion.

I had a novel experience, one that I ought to see the trimmings in the stock receiving room. I found an important member of the business family in one of the morning stores.

"I'll be there!" I said at last, as you may know, to a young man who was waiting for me. I found a young man who was waiting for me. I found a young man who was waiting for me.

Her Summer Frock.

A girl who does much of her own dressmaking is planning a pretty frock of muslin for summer wear, and an important part of it consists of handsomely embroidered handkerchiefs. It is just a matter of ingenuity as to how much you achieve from those beautiful samples, and as to how much you save for yourself, on your summer wardrobe.

Novel Basketry.

One of the big oriental stores which has a way of catching every new idea and sending it to Japan to be incorporated in some novelty, has just imported a number of handsome pieces of basketry combined with copper in a most unusual way. These are bowls, holders and jardinières and other useful and ornamental objects, and all are most harmonious in fact, upon seeing them, you wonder how it is that the combination of the brown basketry and the brown metal has not long ago been accomplished in this manner.

Generosity Hint.

In sending picture postcards to the hospital for sick children it is a good plan to paste the card together firmly, with the address sides concealed. The pictures are much more inviting when treated thus and seem of more value.

Next After the Lilies.

Now that the Easter lilies have had their day, it is time to plant tomato vines. No better calisthenics for the lady of the house than making garden, and in our climate where it is a delight to be out of doors for at least nine-tenths of the year, this kind of physical culture is far from irksome.

An "After Easter Sale."

The girl or woman who did not secure her suit before the vernal holiday may now reap a benefit in after-Easter prices at one of the reliable Broadway stores. Less than half is somewhat of a saving and that is the announcement for a sale.

A Pretty Hat for Summer.

A stunning tailcoat hat seen on Easter parade was of fine white Milan braid in English walking shape, and it was trimmed entirely of white Irish crochet. A wide band in handwoven hand-made pattern was finished at the front with a "stick-up" of the Irish, which had the olive-shaped falls, and there were moderate sized hat pins all so with Irish crocheted heads. The uniqueness of the pattern used and the fineness of the work, gave to this exclusive hat an inexpressible chic air.

A Modish Coat.

A modish matinee coat of coarse meshed woolen crash was made up over emerald green taffeta changeable, which showed through in fascinating glints, and was made obvious in the cuffs and collar, as well as in straps which buttoned across from beneath the set-on seams of panel at back and front. These straps were fastened—or seemed to be—by means of crystal buttons also in the emerald green.

Fashion Mentions.

The rose and other large petalled flowers as particular favorites in garniture of hand-made flowers for summer gowns.

Transparencies are freely used for material in evening dress. Chiffons, voiles and nets are in favor and a large proportion of the toilettes are in veiled effect, the chiffon or tulle taking the form of overdresses, tunics, draperies and scarfs.

Silkon belts are of the crush order, and are usually worn high; they end with two or three large buttons, a rosette, ash ends, a square bow or a large flower—at the left front is the flower. Black satin is the favorite silken belt.

The great rage for short taffetas in millinery promises to be short-lived, but this material finds its most satisfactory development for misses' hats, because it requires bright, youthful complexions to offset it being hard and trying above the face.

With white linen, pique, serge or sailor skirts the very thin handkerchief linen models of waists are to be made up with tucks, Val, of fine Irish merino. Fine insertion embroidered as handwork that will put a few delicate motifs as for a yoke, collar and cuffs with very fine embroidery cotton in open and closed designs.

The Best Ever.

PLANS ARRANGED FOR BIG PARADE.

AUTOS TO HAVE FOREMOST PART IN FIESTA PAGEANT.

Greater Number of Machines Expected Than Ever Appeared Before in Floral Exhibition—Call Issued to All Motorists to Take Part—Committee Adopts Rules.

"The greatest automobile floral parade the world has ever seen" is the slogan of the Automobile Committee which is to assist F. J. Zeehandelaar in the plans to arrange the automobile floral floats of the Fiesta pageant. The committee met yesterday at the office of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and will meet again at noon today at the Hollenbeck Hotel.

Details of the parade will be under way every day the entry list swells. An outline of the rules was read at the meeting yesterday and today will be finally decided upon and with all the preliminary details arranged, the committee will apply itself to securing a large number of entries. Already more machines are assured than have ever appeared in a floral parade in California.

The call has been issued to every motorist to get in and work for the parade. Flowers are plentiful in Southern California, and the display of blossoms will herald to the world this land of flowers, automobiles and sunshine.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has joined the movement and will put forth every effort to make the parade an overwhelming success. Secretary Sibel Geary attended the meeting yesterday and pledged the support of the club.

The following are the rules for judging the floral parade:

1. The most artistic arrangement (or harmonious blending of natural flower decorations, shall constitute the standard of comparison, together with the general effect of the entry.
2. Natural grasses, ferns, or trailing vines shall be admitted for decoration purposes; but in competition for prize natural flowers shall have the highest value.
3. The judges must take into consideration the appropriateness of the dress of the participants and drivers.
4. Other rules require that only natural flowers be used in decoration and that the vehicles shall be fitted to at least half their seating capacity.
5. Automobiles will be given the right of line and will be permitted to run in advance of the parade, forming a separate division. No motorcycles will be entered.

QUICK ACTION URGED IN THE AQUEDUCT DISTRIBUTION.

Mayor Asks Council to Get Busy on Mulholland Report and Makes Plain Order in Which He Considers the Trunk Lines Should Be Built for the Water.

The Mayor wants the City Council to show some speed in carrying into effect the plans of Chief Engineer Mulholland for the distribution of the water from the aqueduct. He sent a message yesterday to the city's legislative body drawing attention to the need of haste.

"We have a year in which to serve the city with that water," he said, as he affixed his signature to the message. "It is high time that something was done. I have asked only that the plan shall be carried out that looks to the furnishing of the water to the city of Los Angeles. The city has paid for the construction of the aqueduct and it is only right that the citizens should have the use of what they have paid for, and have that use at the earliest possible moment. This large investment must not be allowed to lie idle, producing no return."

As to the other projects for the distribution of the surplus water, he can arrange for the plans afterwards. This supply for the city, however, can be arranged for out of our present funds and no bond issue will be required. There is no occasion, therefore, for delay."

In his message, the Mayor goes further than to urge the city to take immediate action on the aqueduct water. It is imperative that your honorable body immediately take up the consideration of Mr. Mulholland's report on the distribution of the aqueduct water. This report contemplates the construction of a trunk line carrying water through the Calhuenaga hills to the Franklin Canyon reservoir site and thence to Los Angeles and to the Calhuenaga, Inglewood and Redondo districts; also a line to the Providencia and the Mission districts; and one to the Mission district and one to the proposed Chatsworth reservoir covering the Chatsworth and Fernando districts.

The most important of these lines and that which should be built first is the one through the Calhuenaga hills. It involves the construction of a 4000-foot tunnel, which will require considerable time, and I would recommend that your honorable body recommend the construction of a trunk line at least 6500 miles in length. That will supply the present needs of the city and supply water for a portion of the aqueduct water. In preparing this line, of course, will be but a part of the great distributing system of the aqueduct water. In preparing the plan for the complete distributing system, I believe that all lands which can be served profitably should be included. This should mean many thousands of acres more than our surplus waters will supply adequately. It will be necessary to extend our system to cover most of the city. I served adequately, because much of this acreage probably will not demand water for years to come, and we must put our waters to beneficial use at the earliest possible moment. Otherwise we not only will lose revenue, but we cannot keep the full amount of water running through our power plants, thereby causing a great loss in the development of power.

I urge upon your honorable body to take this matter up at once. I believe that it should be the policy of the city to fix a uniform price per inch at which the water shall be delivered, and to guarantee so far as possible the continued use of water by those first applying for and using it, until the city itself requires the water, if it ever does; that is to say, that priority of use shall give priority of right to the use of the water as against those who do not use it. The paramount interest of the city is to secure as prompt use of the water as possible at a fair price.

KEEN INTEREST IN THE HARBOR.

Aboard Launches They Visit
San Pedro Waters.

Commercial Club Does Itself
Proud as the Host.

Three hundred and fifty members of the Woman's City Club were guests yesterday of the San Pedro Commercial Club on a tour of inspection of the development work in the inner and outer harbor. The visitors, led by President Mrs. Andrew Stewart Lobinger and Secretary Mrs. Barr of the club, were met at Compton by a committee from the Commercial Club, with Miner B. Goodrich, as chairman, and the visitors were presented with cards of welcome with facts concerning the harbor neatly printed thereon, which were explained in detail during the visit.

The special cars upon arrival were run direct to Point Firmin, where the visitors were given a comprehensive view of the big breakwater in the outer harbor and of all the work under way and contemplated in that locality. Returning, the party boarded the tug Warrior and the launches, Imp, Peer, Orient and California at the foot of fifth street, from which the junkies were able to gain much first-hand information concerning the scope of the projects on both the inner and outer harbor, aided by explanations from a reception committee of twenty business men of San Pedro, who accompanied the excursionists for that purpose.

The launches were first run up the inner harbor, passing the United States government dredger, San Pedro, actively at work on the west side of the bay, through the turning basin and on up to the foot of the recently constructed municipal wharf in front of Wilmington. Returning, the visitors were taken to the outer harbor and shown the extensive construction work of the Pacific Wharf and Storage Company on the east side of the bay and that of the Outer Harbor Wharf and Dock Company on the west side.

The improvements were thoroughly explained and the women kept the committee constantly busy with a rapid fire of questions during the entire trip.

The holdings of the city in both the inner and outer harbors came in for considerable attention. Particular interest was evidenced in plans for the improvement of the Huntington division in the outer harbor, on which the city has inaugurated the first extended improvement in preparation for the shipping, that will come with the opening of the Panama Canal.

The big dredger Turbine which arrived here yesterday afternoon from Honolulu, and which will be placed at work on the Huntington fill, was a subject of especial interest to the visitors. The Turbine is one of the largest dredgers in commission, being 140 feet over all and equipped with turbine engines. It has a capacity of 12,000 cubic yards daily. Extensive notes concerning the dredger and its machinery were made, which will probably be elaborately discussed at future meetings of the club.

Returning from this inspection the visitors were taken in the special cars to the Hotel Virginia at Long Beach, where luncheon was served and an

BROKEN HYDRANT MAKES PERFECTLY GOOD GEYSER.

Some Water on West Second Street,
Between Main and Spring, yesterday afternoon when a hydrant was knocked off by a truck.

NO GEYSER in the Yellowstone National Park ever performed with much more grace or artistic effect than did a broken fire hydrant at the southeast corner of Center place and West Second street yesterday afternoon. The exhibition, which lasted until the flow could be cut off on either side the break, about twenty minutes, was viewed by thousands who literally blocked traffic between Main and Spring streets.

A. F. Moulton, No. 903 West Eighty-fifth street, is credited with having caused the geyser. A large auto truck belonging to U. R. Bowers & Sons, No. 942 South Main street, got beyond his control when one of the front wheels went into a rut. Before he could stop the big machine it

ACT GOOD SAMARITANS.

Accused of Causing Accident in Reality They Help to Take Care of the Injured.

Auto No. 55642 Cal., owned by James W. Hellman, was not the machine which injured John McNary and Miss Blanche Cooby, Sunday night, events of yesterday show, and the police of the University station are still trying to locate the automobile which did the damage, and its occupants.

Instead of being the one who ran into the two persons, William Hellman, son of the owner of the machine, played the part of the Good Samaritan in the accident, coming upon Miss Cooby and McNary ten minutes after, and easing and comforting them until they were taken to the doctor. The companions of Hellman were also useful and solicitous for the welfare of the injured.

Certain new methods of ore treatment in one stage or another within the next few months are to be tried out at the Braden property, and the results of these will be watched with great interest. The management has for a considerable time contemplated carrying on these experiments and the methods will be tested about the treatment now employed and will in no way interfere with the present operations.

The first step in the concentration of the ore by the Mineral Separation Limited, a company now engaged in erecting a mill on plant in which they will treat the Braden ore. This company is now working in several places in Australia and New Zealand, and the Braden property is to be treated in a similar manner.

The Braden property is now being worked by the Braden Concentrator and the results of the past year's experiments on Braden's sulphide ore have been made, and the results are said to have shown around 30 per cent. extraction of copper. It is estimated that at least 30 per cent. recovery can be made from the Braden ore. The mill is now being erected. Machinery for the installation was shipped from England last month, and by summer the results of the process should have been determined.

The property, which is being made into the construction of the leaching plant which the Braden management is installing for the purpose of reducing the cost of the ore, is now being worked in a similar manner.

The cost of producing copper will be very much reduced by the new method, as it is estimated by the Braden management that the cost of producing copper will be reduced by 25 per cent. The conditions are practically favorable for the leading method, owing to the extremely cheap electrical power generated at the company's hydroelectric plant.

It will be seen from the above that there is a possibility of Braden's cost being considerably reduced by the new method. The Braden property is now being worked in a similar manner.

An Unusual Guarantee

It is unusual to guarantee a cooking fat, but your grocer is authorized to make you this offer—if you do not find Cottolene perfectly satisfactory, he will cheerfully refund your money.

There is a reason why he can do this. Cottolene is purer and more wholesome than lard or other cooking fats; moreover, it is packed in air-tight pails, which keep it fresh indefinitely.

You wouldn't buy so-called "fresh" eggs when you could get "guaranteed fresh" eggs at practically the same price. Why, then, take chances with other cooking fats, when Cottolene is absolutely guaranteed?
